Junta Claims Full S. Korea Control, Defies U.S. Pleas

COMBINED AP AND UPI

SEOUL—The rebel military junta, defying American pleas to pull in its horns, claimed full control over South Korea today.

Lt. Gen. Chang Do-Young said his revolutionary committee has taken over all authority from the elected regime of Premier John M. Chang and has formally begun handling affairs of state. He made this announcement in a midnight broadcast.

The rebel junta, avowedly pro-American and anti-Communist, seized government buildings in Seoul, proclaimed martial law, ordered dissolution of the National Assembly and local legislatures, and established a 7 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew. It controlled Radio Seoul.

The rebels had President Posun Yun make a special broadcast appeal urging Chang and his ministers to come to terms. He said the revolutionary committee could guarantee their personal safety.

Yun called on the public to "cooperate" to prevent confusion and to maintain order. The civilian populace stayed calm and quietly obeyed a nighttime curfew order.

"The Communists are seeking an opportunity to take advantage of this situation," Yun said in his message broadcast over the rebel-controlled radio. "We must remain composed and calm. We must settle the situation without any sacrifices."

The United States opposed the revolt in statements by Charge D'Affaires Marshall Green and United Nations commander Gen. Carter B. Magruder. It demanded return of government control to Chang and urged ROK Army troops to use their influence to see that this was done.

The revolutionary junta ignored this request and pressed ahead with its victory moves, proclaiming martial law and clamping on censorship.

Magruder, in a second statement, said there were only

Khrushchev Note Handed To Kennedy

Could Pave Way To Meeting Soon Between The Two

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy today received a personal note from Premier Nikita Khrushchev involving U.S.-Soviet relations which possibly could pave the way for a face-to-face meeting between the two men.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov handed Khrushchev's note to Kennedy during a 30-minute morning meeting at the White House.

Both the Americans and the Russians said Khrushchev's note was in reply to a message Kennedy wrote him last Feb. 22, and the contents of which have never been disclosed. The message was delivered to Khrushchev in Siberia by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson.

NORMAL NEGOTIATIONS

It was reported at the time of delivery that the President's message expressed confidence in Thompson as a diplomatic negotiator.

One Moscow report said the note urged Khrushchev to deal directly with Thompson, a reflection of the Kennedy Administration's interest then in normal diplomatic negotiations rather than summit meetings.

However, the note also is understood to have contained Kennedy's expressed hope for fruitful negotiations with the Russians.

LAIN DORMANT

It has lain dormant since then, while U.S.-Soviet relations have deteriorated during the Laotian and Cuban crisis. The fact that Khrushchev has now chosen to answer it was significant in view of reports that Kennedy wants to meet the Soviet leader in a neutral European capital next month.

Former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee saw Kennedy after Menshikov left. Asked whether he thought the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting would take place next month, he told reporters "I understand it's coming off, isn't it?"

In Geneva, persistent but unconfirmed reports, circulated today that Kennedy and Khrushchev will meet in Vienna early next month, probably June 4.

CANADA READY TO WELCOME PRESIDENT

OTTAWA (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy is scheduled to visit Canada today in a move designed to solidify hemispheric solidarity.

The president, on his first trip to a foreign country since taking office, was scheduled to arrive this afternoon.

The visit, returning one made by Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker to Washington earlier this year, has been interpreted here as symbolic of Kennedy's concern for the harmonious development of Canadian-American relations.

The President's party, which includes his wife, Jacqueline and a group of government officials, are expected to receive the kind of welcome the capital usually reserves for royalty.

Local tourist director Gerry Geldert forecast crowds "reminiscent of visits by the queen."

State Up Against Deficit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California faces a possible 1.1-million-dollar deficit in its 1961-62 budget despite steady recovery from the recent recession, Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today.

Brown also told legislative finance leaders the state's income for the current year, ending June 30, will fall 9.6 million dollars short of expectations.

The governor reiterated his warning to legislators that he will veto spending measures or tax cuts that would throw his 2.6- billion-dollar 1961-62 budget further out of balance.

'NEVER LESS'

"I have never signed anything less than a balanced budget, and I have no intention of starting now," he said.

Brown also reaffirmed his earlier statement that he will not seek any tax increase this year.

He said steady business recovery probably will bring in 10.8 million dollars more in the year beginning July 1 than anticipated in the budget, but increased expenses will about cancel it out.

"That relatively small deficit figure is still highly uncertain," Brown said in a statement. "I assume the legislature can and will bring the figures into balance.

"If not, I will use a blue pencil to do the job myself," he added, referring to his veto power over individual budget items.

When submitted January, Brown's 1961-62 budget would have yielded a surplus of $400,000 on June 30, 1962.

RAISES OUT?

Brown said the prospective deficit appears to rule out a proposed 5 per cent pay raise for all 120,000 state employees next Jan. 1 The raise would cost 16.1 million dollars.

The governor had said earlier the state could only afford a 2.2-million-dollar pay raise for psychiatric workers.

Turning to the current year, Brown said personal income taxes were about 15 million dollars less than expected. There was an increase in the inheritance tax, however, which made the net drop an estimated 9.6 million dollars.

Laos Talks On Without Royalists

GENEVA (UPI) — The Laos Peace Conference opened tonight four days late and boycotted by the pro-Western Royal Government delegation from Laos.

Its task was to come up with a formula to "neutralize" the tiny country and prevent the smouldering flames of its civil war from spreading into a major conflict.

Shortly before the conference opening, which had been postponed four straight days, the Royal Laotian government balked at attending only two hours before the scheduled opening. The reason was the pre-conference decision to set the pro-Communist Pathet Lao Rebels and the Laotian "Neutralists" at the sessions.

The decision meant that the parley called to discuss the future of Laos would begin without representation of the government of that country which is supported by the western powers.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was known to dislike the decision to give the Pathet Lao Rebels a place at the conference table, but he was reported to feel that with the sessions under way there was less risk of the fighting flaring up again in Laos and perhaps spreading to the rest of Southeast Asia.

Engineer Reports On East-West Highway

Marin's major east-west highway should connect with Highway 101 at the Third and Irwin Streets interchange, follow an extension of First Street, then run west of the Miracle Mile and along Center Boulevard to connect with Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Fairfax.

This is the belief of engineer Daniel P. Coleman, as set forth in his San Rafael street plan, copies of which were distributed to city councilmen last night.

The Miracle Mile is now close to its capacity, Coleman noted. Pending development of the San Geronimo Valley will throw a great amount of additional traffic onto the bottlenecked route.

"By 1980 traffic volumes in excess of 60,000 cars per day may be anticipated unless a new east-west freeway were constructed at some other location," Coleman write.

Coleman said he regards the First Street-Center Boulevard route as the best of three alternatives—others being from San Quentin to the Greenbrae Interchange, then along Sir Francis Drake, and from Highway 101 west via Lucas Valley Road and Nicasio.

If the freeway is not developed along the First Street route, it will be necessary for the City of San Rafael, together with San Anselmo and Fairfax, to develop a major route there, Coleman contends.

The route should be one or two lots west of the Miracle Mile, he suggests, to retain the latter to handle its share of traffic. This would necessitate one major cut—or perhaps tunnel—through the point of the hill in San Anselmo.

Coleman's report details, street by street, a plan for developing a San Rafael street system to handle tomorrow's traffic.

Mayor John F. McInnis made pointed note last night that a meeting last week at which Coleman briefed his report was not a "sneak preview," but a workshop session of the city council announced in advance.

Within the next two months, Coleman will discuss his plan before the chamber of commerce and other interested groups, and copies will be available for inspection at the city hall. About mid-July, the mayor announced, a public meeting to explain and discuss the plan will be held.

Garety Pounds At 'Lies' Told By Aldeguer

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety asked the jury to bring in a first degree murder conviction against Luis S. Aldeguer, 37, in his opening final argument this morning before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

Garety pounded away at "lies" told by Aldeguer and the defendant's memory of the Jan. 21 killing to bolster the prosecution's contention that the twin stabbings were "deliberate and premeditated."

First degree murder could mean death for Aldeguer, who stabbed his wife Ruth and killed his rival, Roger Collins Jr., 38.

Garety hit hard at these points in his final argument:

Aldeguer told police and later swore before the jury that he got the murder weapon from the family garage on the night of the stabbing. He later admitted that he actually bought the knife in San Francisco and brought it to Mill Valley the night of the slaying.

The fact that he lied about the knife shows "he knew the difference between first and second degree murder," Garety declared.

Public Defender Peter Allen Smith was scheduled to fight for Aldeguer's life this afternoon with a final argument for the defense.

The case was expected to go to the jury this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Slaying Suspects Court Date Set

Four San Francisco teen-age boys, charged with the murder and robbery of Ross School teacher William P. Hall, will appear before Judge Melvin Cronin in San Francisco Juvenile Court on Friday, at 1:30 p.m.

The boys were arrested May 4 and are confined to the Youth Guidance Center. They are Larry Magee, 16; Robert Hall, 17; William Castillo, 17 and Michael Kilkenny, 16.

McCarthy Recreation Plan Is Tucked Away

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—The resolution by John F. McCarthy to change federal policy on purchase of recreational property in Marin County languished in the Assembly inactive file today.

Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley moved the measure to the inactive file in the face of major opposition on the Assembly floor.

San Francisco assemblyman John A. O'Connell had a series of amendments at the Assembly desk, had Bagley attempted to pass the resolution. His amendments would have changed it so that it would support establishment of a Point Reyes Seashore Area as proposed in pending legislation in Congress.

The amendments in effect made this resolution the same as one already passed by the Assembly, which Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy has bottled up in the Senate rules committee.

O'Connell also had in hand another set of amendments which would eliminate all reference to Point Reyes in McCarthy's measure and make it a simple resolution urging use of surplus federal lands in Marin for recreational purposes.

Bagley said he placed the McCarthy resolution on the inactive file pending further consultation with McCarthy, who was in Los Angeles today.

Toll Crossing Bill Gains

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A measure which would provide half a million dollars for study of a new Marin-San Francisco toll crossing was given its first approval in a Senate committee this morning.

The measure, by Sens. Eugene McAteer of San Francisco and John F. McCarthy of Marin, calls for study of a bridge from the Embarcadero in San Francisco to either Angel or Alcatraz Island and then on to Marin.

McAteer said he anticipates the final terminal of such a span would be in the vicinity of Point San Quentin.

The measure, approved by the Senate transportation committee, now goes to the Senate finance committee for consideration of the $500,000 appropriation.

MYSTERY

No Evidence In Poisoning Of 3 Trees

A case of arsenic poisoning, reported from Tiburon yesterday, may go unsolved because of lack of evidence.

Mrs. Nina Piacentini of 1874 Vistazo West, Tiburon, told Deputy Sheriff William N. McKillop that three of her dwarf eucalyptus were killed by poisoning while she and her husband were away from home for about a week. The trees had been planted about six weeks ago and were "growing beautifully."

When they returned yesterday, they found white powder sprinkled around the base of the trees, and the trees were shriveled. Deputy McKillop said that the Marin Agricultural Commissioner had the powder and soil tested and found it contained arsenic.

Mrs. Piacentini told the officer they had planned to keep the trees about eight to ten feet high so as not to hurt anyone's view.

The Piacentinis said they had had no trouble with neighbors, and they have no idea who would want to poison their trees.

Bias Housing Bill Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly today voted 42-31 for a bill directed against discrimination in housing—the major civil rights measure of the 1961 legislative session.

The legislation, by Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins (D-Los Angeles), gives the State Fair Employment Practices Commission the power to enforce a two-year-old law prohibiting owners of publicly assisted housing from refusing to sell or rent to persons because of race, religion or nationality.

It would apply, in general, to apartment houses built or repaired with F.H.A., GI or Cal-Vet Loans, tract dwellings by government loans, urban renewal developments and multiple dwelling with a veterans tax exemption.

Hawkins called his bill a method of fighting discrimination with "friendly persuasion."

Assemblyman William Bagley, one of six Republicans to vote for the bill, took the floor to urge its passage. He said the Hawkins bill implements present non-discrimination policies without extending them.

However, through the commission hearing proposals of the bill, the state would pay some of the costs which in State courts would have to be paid by persons charged with discrimination.

He praised Hawkins, one of the Assembly's two Negro members, for "shepherding the bill through the lower house."

Reapportionment Word Is Due

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin County will not be affected by reapportionment, it appeared here today.

Although the first official version of the new redistricting plans will not be made public until Thursday night, word leaking out of the Assembly elections and reapportionment committee indicates that Marin's status will not be changed.

Marin will remain in the First Congressional District with six other north coastal counties, although it is possible Lake County may be detached and put into a Sacramento Valley District.

Inmate Who Escaped Gets Five To Life

Henderson McCoy, 33-year-old San Quentin convict who escaped after terrorizing a San Quentin Village woman and her granddaughter in 1958, must spend another five years to life in prison.

After holding out with an innocent plea and demanding a jury trial, he suddenly changed his plea to guilty today and was promptly sentenced by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court.

Prospective jurors were ready at the courthouse, and Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden W. Roth was prepared to open the prosecution this morning when McCoy pleaded guilty to escape and robbery.

The new penalty will run consecutively to the six-month-to-10-years he was serving for narcotics violation in Los Angeles.

McCoy walked off a work detail on the morning of July 23, 1958, and broke into the home of Bal B. Suttle, prison furniture factory supervisor. He tied up Mrs. Suttle and put her 8-year-old granddaughter, Katie Hancock, in a closet after threatening the girl with a knife.

McCoy drove away in Suttle's 1956 Cadillac and remained at large for two years and three months until his capture in Chicago.

Thailand Gets U.S. Backing From Johnson

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson today assured Thailand of the United States determination "to maintain adequate and responsible strength in the free world" against the Communist threat.

Johnson flew in from Hong Kong for a two-day visit to this Southeast Asian kingdom concerned over domestic Communist activities and Red gains in neighboring Laos.

He was met by top Thai officials seeking assurances of increased American arms aid and determined U.S. backing against the menace of Communism.

In a brief speech at the airport, Johnson said, "We have come to listen and to learn what needs to be done."

The City of Novato and Novato Community Inc. are embroiled in a court fight for ownership of the clubhouse and property.

Bias Housing Bill Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly today voted 42-31 for a bill directed against discrimination in housing—the major civil rights measure of the 1961 legislative session.

The legislation, by Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins (D-Los Angeles), gives the State Fair Employment Practices Commission the power to enforce a two-year-old law prohibiting owners of publicly assisted housing from refusing to sell or rent to persons because of race, religion or nationality.

It would apply, in general, to apartment houses built or repaired with F.H.A., GI or Cal-Vet Loans, tract dwellings by government loans, urban renewal developments and multiple dwelling with a veterans tax exemption.

Hawkins called his bill a method of fighting discrimination with "friendly persuasion."

Assemblyman William Bagley, one of six Republicans to vote for the bill, took the floor to urge its passage. He said the Hawkins bill implements present non-discrimination policies without extending them.

However, through the commission hearing proposals of the bill, the state would pay some of the costs which in State courts would have to be paid by persons charged with discrimination.

He praised Hawkins, one of the Assembly's two Negro members, for "shepherding the bill through the lower house."

Engineer Reports On East-West Highway

Marin's major east-west highway should connect with Highway 101 at the Third and Irwin Streets interchange, follow an extension of First Street, then run west of the Miracle Mile and along Center Boulevard to connect with Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Fairfax.

This is the belief of engineer Daniel P. Coleman, as set forth in his San Rafael street plan, copies of which were distributed to city councilmen last night.

The Miracle Mile is now close to its capacity, Coleman noted. Pending development of the San Geronimo Valley will throw a great amount of additional traffic onto the bottlenecked route.

"By 1980 traffic volumes in excess of 60,000 cars per day may be anticipated unless a new east-west freeway were constructed at some other location," Coleman write.

Coleman said he regards the First Street-Center Boulevard route as the best of three alternatives—others being from San Quentin to the Greenbrae Interchange, then along Sir Francis Drake, and from Highway 101 west via Lucas Valley Road and Nicasio.

If the freeway is not developed along the First Street route, it will be necessary for the City of San Rafael, together with San Anselmo and Fairfax, to develop a major route there, Coleman contends.

The route should be one or two lots west of the Miracle Mile, he suggests, to retain the latter to handle its share of traffic. This would necessitate one major cut—or perhaps tunnel—through the point of the hill in San Anselmo.

Coleman's report details, street by street, a plan for developing a San Rafael street system to handle tomorrow's traffic.

Mayor John F. McInnis made pointed note last night that a meeting last week at which Coleman briefed his report was not a "sneak preview," but a workshop session of the city council announced in advance.

Within the next two months, Coleman will discuss his plan before the chamber of commerce and other interested groups, and copies will be available for inspection at the city hall. About mid-July, the mayor announced, a public meeting to explain and discuss the plan will be held.

Thailand Gets U.S. Backing From Johnson

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson today assured Thailand of the United States determination "to maintain adequate and responsible strength in the free world" against the Communist threat.

Johnson flew in from Hong Kong for a two-day visit to this Southeast Asian kingdom concerned over domestic Communist activities and Red gains in neighboring Laos.

He was met by top Thai officials seeking assurances of increased American arms aid and determined U.S. backing against the menace of Communism.

In a brief speech at the airport, Johnson said, "We have come to listen and to learn what needs to be done."

The City of Novato and Novato Community Inc. are embroiled in a court fight for ownership of the clubhouse and property.

What Lies Behind Coup In Korea

By JOHN RANDOLPH

NEW YORK (AP) — The military coup in South Korea confirms long-standing fears that the little nation's huge army might someday prove too strong for its feeble semblance of democracy.

It also underlines deposed President Sygman Rhee's iron-clad subordination of the armed forces to his civilian control.

For seven years after the end of the Korean War, Rhee kept his 500,000 troops—one of the largest standing armies in the world—eating peacefully out of his hand. It took only 13 months after he fell from power in a students' revolt last year for the soldiers to turn on his well-intentioned but weak successors.

The coup, led by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-Young, was another blow to Western hopes for democracy in the new nations of Asia and Africa.

American irritation at the coup was shown immediately in the Seoul embassy's unusual call for support of Prime Minister John M. Chang's civilian government.

With the South Korean army in apparent physical control, this looked like a bold bid to either persuade the coup's leaders to modify their stand or else to rally national support for Chang.

American intervention has been decisive before in Korea. It was the American embassy's indication of loss of confidence in Rhee last year that clinched the students' revolt.

The reasons for the coup are simple.

The bulk of the army's enlisted men are drawn from Korea's rice farms, where grinding poverty and depression have lingered for years. Their officers — an unusually large share of the nation's educated and talented young men—are drawn from the educated classes of the towns and Korea's old nobility and country gentry.

Tried and tempered in the sufferings of the Korean War, passionately patriotic, terribly underpaid, and unusually idealistic, many of the younger officers have dreamed of making over their country. Egypt's fiery Nasser and Pakistan's deliberate Ayub Khan have been their principal models.

Whatever they do, the army will probably remain the center of gravity in Korean politics. It was always there. But like an iceberg, most of it never showed.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Venus Contact?

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet scientists soon will try to contact their Venus-bound space probe in hopes of gaining new information about the planet, informed sources said today.

Scientists have estimated that the Venus rocket, launched piggy-back fashion from an orbiting earth satellite on Feb. 12, would go into orbit around Venus between May 15 and May 20. Some even have pin pointed the date as May 19 or 20.

The Russians have said they lost radio contact with the rocket after failing to communicate with it on Feb. 27.

Tightening Control

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Communist-backed Antoine Gizenga was reported purging moderates in his Stanleyville regime today to block reconciliation with other Congolese leaders.

Observers here believed Gizenga was tighting his control over his Orientale Province government, particularly those leaders suspected of wanting an arrangement with President Joseph Kasavubu's central government at Leopoldville.

Storm In East

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

An appalachian storm line today inherited turbulent winds and driving rain from a storm that raged three days over the nation's interior and rolled toward the Atlantic Ocean.

Severe thunderstorms pelted West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York during the night. Cooler temperatures rode most of the rain clouds from the Ohio valley east and south along the appalachians.

Russ Shelters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A secret study shows that Russia is spending from 500 million dollars to 1.5 billion dollars yearly on fallout shelters. It is believed "the great majority" of Russians would be protected from radiation in a nuclear war.

Frank B. Ellis, director of the office of civil and defense mobilization, told a House appropriations subcommittee about the study in testimony published today. He asked for 2 millions dollars to provide fallout shelters in 29 existing government buildings and 6.2 million dollars to include shelters in planned new buildings.

Sclerosis 'Machine'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The University of Pennsylvania says it has developed a machine that may make possible the early diagnosis of multiple sclerosis

Dr. Melvin W. Thorner, director of the university's multiple sclerosis clinic, said yesterday the machine is a "flicker fusion" device which detects retrobulbar neuritis—an eye defect common to sclerosis patients—even before the disease becomes evident.

Medal For Ike

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UPI)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower last night accepted with humility and gratitude a one-pound gold medal for "the highest devotion and service to his country."

In accepting the Gen. Sylvanus Thayer Award at the military academy where he was graduated 46 years ago, the 71-year-old former president said:

"It was difficult for me to go through the experience I have gone through today without feeling the tradition and greatness that is in West Point."

The medal was presented by Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McCauliffe, pjresident of the Assn. of Graduates of West Point.

Purge In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—New premier Ali Amini launched a massive purge of army officers today and ordered the arrest of 30 civilians in a crackdown on corruption in high places, it was reported here.

Informed sources said 33 generals and 270 full colonels had been forced into retirement in Amini's crackdown on the army's higher ranks.

Bombings In France

PARIS (UPI)—Terrorist bombings and attacks mounted throughout France and Algeria today even though Algerian peace talks were less than a week away.

Negotiations to end the six-year-old war in Algeria are scheduled to start Saturday at Evian-les-Bains near the Swiss frontier.

More 'Rides' Hinted

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—More "freedom rides" to test the speed of desegregation in the South were hinted today after an integrated group flew here safely to end an 11-day bus-plane trip in Southern states.

The integrationists' journey ended here shortly before midnight but not before a violent reception in Alabama involving the beating of several persons and two bomb scares at a Birmingham airport.

House Gets Bomber-Boosted Defense Bill From Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate yesterday passed and sent to the House a 12.5 billion dollar defense bill which included authorization to buy more long-range bombers.

The measure, which was approved by voice vote, would also authorize purchase of more ships and missiles.

Congress must still appropriate the actual cash for the bill.

Neither President John F. Kennedy nor former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sought the additional bombers. But both the House and Senate armed services committees said they feared defense planners were changing too rapidly from bombers to missiles.

Other developments:

Tax—an economist told the House Ways and Means Committee that Kennedy's tax plans would stimulate industrial development. The Rev. William T. Hogan of Fordham University predicted income increases brought about by Kennedy's plan.

Appropriations — the House appropriations committee recommended a record four billion dollar budget for the Health, Education and Welfare Department, 48.2 million dollars more than it had requested.

Bigamist Given 3 Years Probation

Richard Taylor Wilcox, convicted bigamist, yesterday was given a suspended sentence and placed on three years probation by Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court.

Wilcox must pay one-half of his salary of $767 a month for the support of his children, Judge Keating said. He must also pay all the debts of his former marriage.

Wilcox was still married to his first wife, Virginia, in San Rafael when he married Jeanne Taylor of Sausalito in 1958. He was discovered when he applied for a third marriage license.

Clergyman Tells Of Ordeal

JERUSALEM (UPI) — A German clergyman today told how he talked a Nazi doctor out of turning him into a human guinea pig by reminding him of his dead grandfather who had been a priest.

Dean Heinrich Grueber of the West Berlin Evangelical Church testified against Adolf Eichmann, but asked the forgiveness of the man in the bullet proof glass box for doing so.

NO VENGEANCE

"I hope the accused will not think badly of me," Grueber said. "I did not come here with hatred in my heart or a feeling of vengeance."

Although not a Jew himself, Grueber went to their aid from the moment the Nazis proclaimed the terror in Berlin. His activities resulted in his being arrested and sent to a concentration camp where the Nazis knocked out his teeth. Later he was transferred to Dachau and placed in a section reserved for priests and pastors who had fallen into disfavor with the Nazis.

"I had a heart attack and was no longer fit to work," Grueber said. "People who were not fit to work became human guinea pigs and medical experiments were performed upon them.

'NO REST, PEACE

"My friends took me to the sick clinic where a doctor examined me and addressed me in the usual way: 'Swine.' He said his grandfather had been a priest. I told him that in accordance with my understanding his grandfather was in heaven. But your grandfather has no rest and no peace because he knows what his grandchild is doing. The doctor turned to me and said: 'Sir.'

"He released me. The next day he sent an ambulance and gave me a certificate to the effect that I was not fit to be kept in camp. After a while I was released, but not due to this doctor only. My wife deserves credit. She applied to all possible offices."

Grueber was released and returned to Berlin.

Joint Chiefs To Have A Say About Cuban Invasion Fiasco

(Editor's Note: Why the silence at the Pentagon in the wake of the Cuban invasion? When will the joint chiefs of staff be given an opportunity to tell their side of the story on the invasion failure? Fred S. Hoffman, Defense Department newsman, covers these points.)

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — With blame for the Cuban invasion debacle starting to point more directly at them, the military chiefs have been barred by top-side orders from entering any kind of public defense or explanation.

This, on top of other recent actions muzzling the admirals and generals, has created resentment among some officers at the Pentagon who view the enforced silence on Cuba as setting up the military as a possible scapegoat.

However, an appearance before a Senate Latin-American Affairs subcommittee later this week or early next week will give Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, an opportunity to present a case for the JCS.

Although military leaders are limited in what they can say publicly, these restrictions do not apply to appearances before congressional groups.

In the wake of the Cuban fiasco, the Central Intelligence Agency, the State Department, the White House staff and the joint chiefs have been criticized in varying degrees.

By means of informal news conferences and talks with reporters, in which the source is not identified, partisans of various U.S. officials and agencies involved have aired their viewpoints. They have said, in effect, "It wasn't us—it was the other guy."

Not so the joint chiefs. Besides Lemnitzer, this highest military body includes Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. George H. Decker, Army chief of staff. Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine commandant, also sits with the joint chiefs when corps matters are involved.

'Defense Information No Security Risk'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today he knows of no instance where the defense program has damaged national security.

Dirksen spoke out after Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) told the Senate yesterday that it was "not inconceivable that we could destroy ourselves" by disclosing too many details of defense operations.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said in a separate interview he thinks that sometimes damaging information has become public. He said government officials and newsmen would have to share the blame in such cases.

"I think sometimes we in Congress push our military men too hard in questioning them about some aspects of the defense budget," he observed.

Russell said last week it was "absolutely ridiculous" to contend that the public has a right "to know the most highly secret of our defense plans."

He touched off a controversy when he added he had "almost unspeakable contempt for any man in politics who would be frightened by newspapers telling him they would attack him because he was not giving them intimate details about defense planning."

Clergyman Tells Of Ordeal

JERUSALEM (UPI) — A German clergyman today told how he talked a Nazi doctor out of turning him into a human guinea pig by reminding him of his dead grandfather who had been a priest.

Dean Heinrich Grueber of the West Berlin Evangelical Church testified against Adolf Eichmann, but asked the forgiveness of the man in the bullet proof glass box for doing so.

NO VENGEANCE

"I hope the accused will not think badly of me," Grueber said. "I did not come here with hatred in my heart or a feeling of vengeance."

Although not a Jew himself, Grueber went to their aid from the moment the Nazis proclaimed the terror in Berlin. His activities resulted in his being arrested and sent to a concentration camp where the Nazis knocked out his teeth. Later he was transferred to Dachau and placed in a section reserved for priests and pastors who had fallen into disfavor with the Nazis.

"I had a heart attack and was no longer fit to work," Grueber said. "People who were not fit to work became human guinea pigs and medical experiments were performed upon them.

'NO REST, PEACE

"My friends took me to the sick clinic where a doctor examined me and addressed me in the usual way: 'Swine.' He said his grandfather had been a priest. I told him that in accordance with my understanding his grandfather was in heaven. But your grandfather has no rest and no peace because he knows what his grandchild is doing. The doctor turned to me and said: 'Sir.'

"He released me. The next day he sent an ambulance and gave me a certificate to the effect that I was not fit to be kept in camp. After a while I was released, but not due to this doctor only. My wife deserves credit. She applied to all possible offices."

Grueber was released and returned to Berlin.

Joint Chiefs To Have A Say About Cuban Invasion Fiasco

(Editor's Note: Why the silence at the Pentagon in the wake of the Cuban invasion? When will the joint chiefs of staff be given an opportunity to tell their side of the story on the invasion failure? Fred S. Hoffman, Defense Department newsman, covers these points.)

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — With blame for the Cuban invasion debacle starting to point more directly at them, the military chiefs have been barred by top-side orders from entering any kind of public defense or explanation.

This, on top of other recent actions muzzling the admirals and generals, has created resentment among some officers at the Pentagon who view the enforced silence on Cuba as setting up the military as a possible scapegoat.

However, an appearance before a Senate Latin-American Affairs subcommittee later this week or early next week will give Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, an opportunity to present a case for the JCS.

Although military leaders are limited in what they can say publicly, these restrictions do not apply to appearances before congressional groups.

In the wake of the Cuban fiasco, the Central Intelligence Agency, the State Department, the White House staff and the joint chiefs have been criticized in varying degrees.

By means of informal news conferences and talks with reporters, in which the source is not identified, partisans of various U.S. officials and agencies involved have aired their viewpoints. They have said, in effect, "It wasn't us—it was the other guy."

Not so the joint chiefs. Besides Lemnitzer, this highest military body includes Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. George H. Decker, Army chief of staff. Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine commandant, also sits with the joint chiefs when corps matters are involved.

'Defense Information No Security Risk'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today he knows of no instance where the defense program has damaged national security.

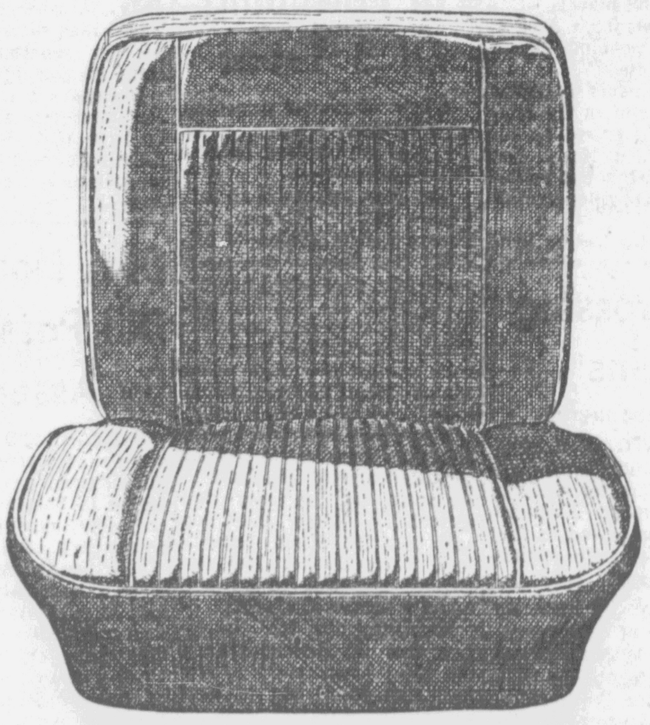
Dirksen spoke out after Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) told the Senate yesterday that it was "not inconceivable that we could destroy ourselves" by disclosing too many details of defense operations.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said in a separate interview he thinks that sometimes damaging information has become public. He said government officials and newsmen would have to share the blame in such cases.

"I think sometimes we in Congress push our military men too hard in questioning them about some aspects of the defense budget," he observed.

Russell said last week it was "absolutely ridiculous" to contend that the public has a right "to know the most highly secret of our defense plans."

He touched off a controversy when he added he had "almost unspeakable contempt for any man in politics who would be frightened by newspapers telling him they would attack him because he was not giving them intimate details about defense planning."



SO MUCH THAT CAN'T BE COPIED

Bucket seats alone do not a sport car make. Even when they're as cozy as ours are. You also want (and darned well need, if you're after a fun-type car) things like efficiently eager steering. Steering like you get with Corvair's rear-engine design.

You want traction that keeps your car firmly attached to the road all the time—around corners, through mudholes, everywhere. You want superlatively balanced braking. You want an amiably smooth, supple ride—like Corvair's full independent suspension gives you.

As you might have guessed, you simply can't get these happy advantages in any other U.S. car. Only Corvair. Anything that gives you less is just another social climber.

SO, WHAT WAS LEFT AFTER PHONE BOOTHS?

WEATHERFORD, Okla. (AP)—Sixty-seven students at Southwestern Oklahoma State College stacked themselves on a standard dormitory single bed last night.

"It's a world's bed-stacking record, and we challenge all comers," said Larry Spears, 18, a pharmacy major who with Allen Covalt, 20, a business administration major, promoted the stunt.

"No one was injured," reported Robert Moore, proctor at Neff Hall, the dormitory launching pad of bed-stacking.

Farmer Going To Prison On Principle

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A farmer here who quit filing income tax returns as a matter of principle is going to prison.

George R. Kendall pleaded guilty last month to violating income tax laws. He said he quit filing returns in 1949 because he thought the government's farm program helped the big farmers but not the small ones.

The statute ran out on some of that time before the government filed charges, but it accused Kendall of violations for 1954 and 1955. After that he resumed paying taxes.

A judge imposed a two-month sentence "as a deterrent to others who may feel inclined to ignore the income tax laws."

NO CALL OF THE WILD

Marilyn the Mallard (left), a waterfowl that thinks more like a woodduck, again has the management of the Remington Farms near Chestertown, Md., all a-jitter. Marilyn is nesting in a tree, 14 feet above the ground, keeping a clutch of 12 eggs warm. Everyone feels this is wrong. Marilyn, they say, should be 2,500 miles away in Canada with others of species trying to accomplish this feat in a more natural habitat. This is the third straight year the wacky bird spurned the call of the north. One of the farm hands (right) shows an egg from the nest. (AP Wirephoto)

Will Recorder Find Place For Office?

Should the county recorder's office be moved from the court house to the new civic center building?

Or should the plans be changed at this late date, picking another county office for removal to the civic center and keeping the recorder at the courthouse?

These will be questions before a special meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. Friday.

The questions arose when civic center architect Aaron Green asked the supervisors yesterday to "expedite your decisions" so office partition bids may be obtained on schedule.

He warned that delay might be costly, noting that special utility connections already are being built into the civic center building to accommodate the recorder's office.

Board Chairman William D. Fusselman recalled that a committee composed of Superior Court Judge Thomas Keating, County Clerk George S. Jones, and public works director Marvin W. Brigham had been handed the problem of reviewing space locations at the civic center.

Jones said judges, attorneys, title companies and others had asked that the recorder's office remain at the courthouse.

"So it is up to the supervisors now to determine whether or not the recorder should move," Jones declared.

Both Supervisors Walter R. Castro and William A. Gnoss said County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini had told them he would be agreeable to moving or staying, as the supervisors saw fit. They advocated that the original plan be followed.

"Apparently the information you get from the recorder is different from what he has told others," bristled Jones. He said Giacomini had told judges, attorneys and title companies that "his office belongs right here."

Jones indicated his opposition to the long-planned move, saying that recorder's and clerk's offices are "closely tied together" and should not be separated.

When architect Green asked the supervisors what offices might be moved to the civic center into the space previously planned for the recorder, the supervisors were silent, but Jones warned Green "you are moving too fast."

At one point, the discussion degenerated into an argument among Jones, Fusselman and Castro as to who was responsible for poor planning in the most recent addition to the old courthouse. Gnoss joined Castro on defense against Jones.

The argument ended when Fusselman called for the Friday morning meeting.

At that time, presumably, the supervisors will give the architect final instructions as to exactly what offices to plan partitions for.

No Approval For Church From Planners

The Episcopal Church of the Nativity, granted tentative approval last January to build on a four-acre site at the end of Ellen Drive in Marinwood, failed to obtain final approval of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Commissioners voted to eliminate access to the church's 75-car parking lot from Ellen Drive on the south and postponed until June 5 decision on final approval.

Last January the only apparent impediment to the church structure was a matter of easement rights through adjoining land on the north, being considered for purchase by Dixie School District.

Yesterday a letter from Dixie Supt. Dennie B. Willis assured the commission that if the school district obtained the land, it would grant the church an easement.

But a group of church representatives led by Col. Philip M. Royce of 2200 Juniperberry Drive, chairman of the building and grounds committee, understood that one-way access to the parking lot was to be permitted off Ellen Drive.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. declared access from that street must be prohibited.

Group To Protest Park Proposal

A group of Marin citizens will travel by chartered bus Thursday to Sacramento to protest a resolution by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy calling for a Point Reyes National Seashore reduced in area to 20,000 acres.

The chartered bus, which is sponsored by the group, calling itself the Point Reyes Auxiliary, will leave the San Rafael Greyhound depot at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. Reservations for the trip are being taken by Mmes. Russell J. Merret, William MacKay, Stanley Anderson and Daniel Turrentine, committee members.

Bitten By Dog

Paul Becker, 21, of 250 Alpine Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a dog bite on the right thigh.

COFFEE TIME AT COUNTY COURTHOUSE

If you have the opportunity to enjoy a cup of coffee on the second floor of the courthouse annex, you can thank the taxpayers of Marin County for the pleasure.

The Board of Supervisors voted unanimously yesterday to plunk out $85 from the county treasury to extend water and electric lines to facilitate installation of a coffee machine.

The action was taken in response to a letter from the public works department, setting for the estimated costs.

P.S. The coffee will still cost a dime per cup.

Probation Employee To Get Overtime

The Marin County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to pay Don R. Miller, a probation office employee, $30.60 for 10 hours overtime work.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair voted against payment.

When a letter from Probation Officer Walter Busher was first read, requesting payment, Blair advocated turning down the request. Turning aside suggestions for "getting more information" Blair said "my mind is already made up."

Blair said comensatory time off would be given in lieu of overtime pay.

But Board Chairman William D. Fusselman recessed the session 15 minutes while Busher was summoned to explain.

The probation officer said Miller already had accumulated considerable compensatory time off and it was not feasible to add more. He explained that the 10 hours in question was fill-in while a regular week-end deputy was on vacation.

Fusselman observed that while compensatory time off was desirable, there were situations when it was not feasible. He indicated his support for Busher's proposal.

Taxpayers Unit Would Halt Reappraisal Plan

The Marin County Taxpayers Assn. asked the Board of Supervisors yesterday to take steps to halt County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel's cyclical reappraisal procedure.

In a letter signed by secretary Walter Lord, the taxpayers group asked Board Chairman William D. Fusselman to live up to his campaign pledges to force Broemmel to stop his "cynical" and "discriminatory" methods. The taxpayers group asked that funds be withheld from Broemmel until he agreed to stop.

"I never made any such statement," commented Fusselman in response to the letter. No action was taken on the request. Broemmel was not present.

The supervisors have accepted a request by a Marin County Grand Jury committee to meet with it behind closed doors tomorrow night to discuss the reappraisal system.

Shopping Center To Offer Green Stamps

W. T. Grant Co. in the Corte Madera Shopping Center will begin offering S&H Green stamps with purchases by customers tomorrow, manager Lester E. Beardsley announced today.

Free copies of the new Sperry and Hutchinson Co. "Ideabook" describing merchandise available to green stamp savers can be obtained at the Grant store.

Cities Oppose Taxes Plan For Hospitals

The incoporated cities of Marin apparently have little use for the suggestion of Charles Clarkson of Novato that one-fourth of all local sales taxes be earmarked for county hospital construction.

Belvedere, Corte Madera and Fairfax yesterday were the first three municipalities to make their attitudes known to the board of supervisors. The registered varying degrees of opposition and indifference to the Clarkson proposal.

"But there are still seven towns yet to hear from," Supervisor William A. Gnoss commented optimistically.

Confirm Appointment

County supervisors yesterday confirmed the appointment of W. J. Williams to the Kentfield Fire Protection District board, to fill a vacancy caused by resignation of Bill De France.

Multiple Zone Proposal Is Rejected By Council

The San Rafael City Council turned down one application for multiple residence rezoning last night, and almost approved another.

By unanimous vote, the council reversed the planning commission's approval of Spero Spiliotis's request for rezoning from single-family dwellings of an area between Bayo Vista Way and Scenic Avenue in the West End to permit four duplexes and 24 garden apartments.

It put over to next Monday at 5 p.m. action on an application by Henry Ghilotti for rezoning of 220,000 square feet of a quarried-off hillside in Bret Harte at the end of Irwin Street, also now single family, to permit duplexes on 10,000-foot lots.

In postponing the latter decision, councilmen expressed desire to tack onto approval of the duplex zoning those provisions of "planned community" zoning which would retain city control of architecture, landscaping, etc. — a suggestion advanced by Acting City Planner James Garrett. But later, after perusing city zoning and subdivision ordinances, City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw informed the council this would be impossible.

"You might as well act tonight," said Bagshaw.

"In fairness to the people who were here and have gone home, we have to have another meeting," declared Councilman Louis H. Baar. His fellow council members agreed.

Bagshaw was instructed to try to work out with Samuel W. Gardiner, attorney for Ghilotti, some agreement which would retain city control of the development.

Bagshaw himself figured in protests against the Bayo Vista rezoning.

Planner Garrett — who advocated the rezoning — posted a map marked with a red dot for each of 65 properties represented on a petition of protest. Attorney John L. Rockwell, appearing to present the protest of Raymond Morrison of 16 Bayo Vista Way, owner of two acres of adjoining property, noted that one of the dots appeared to designate Bagshaw's home at Fifth and Scenic Avenues.

After a procession of other speakers against the rezoning, Bagshaw arose to say: "I did not sign the petition in opposition. That is because it was not presented to me. . . . I think we've had enough apartment zoning out there. . . .This would be another step in degrading a first-class residential area."

Spiliotis contended the zoning would create a "buffer" between the Tropicana Apartments and adjoining single-family dwelling zones. But objectors said apartment zoning should extend no farther.

There was a heavier protest petition against the Ghilotti rezoning on Irwin Street. It was joined by the Bret Harte Heights Assn., the Bret Harte Civic Assn., nine speakers and 202 signers of a protest petition. Ghilotti's only friend at court, besides his attorney, was Ted Gibson of Mill Valley, owner of the 50 acres adjoining and uphill from the Ghilotti property.

But Mayor John F. McInnis, who pointed out he had lived 12 years in Bret Harte and had fought earlier petitions for duplex and apartment zoning, declared the duplexes on 10,000-foot lots would create less scar than single family homes on 5,000-foot lots — which could be built without rezoning. Other councilmen expressed agreement.

Planners Vote To Reclassify 3 Tiburon Lots

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday voted to reclassify three lots on the southeast side of Centro East opposite the end of Diviso Street, Tiburon, from a single-family to duplex residence district.

Architect Bruce E. Moody pointed out that he had provided off-street parking for 10 cars in the three duplexes he had planned for the lots.

The commissioners also voted to recommend approval of plans submitted by E. Meyer for construction of a 3,500-square foot warehouse on a parcel of land north of and adjacent to Marin Motor Movies, off Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

The board continued until June 5 the following proposals:

1. Resolution of intention to consider amendment of the Marinwood Master Plan's church sites.

2. An amendment which would reclassify property one and one-half miles north of Atherton Avenue on west side of Highway 101, north of Novato, to planned industrial district.

Teacher Hiring On Fairfax Agenda

Authorization to employ two new teachers will be asked of the Fairfax School District board at its meeting at 7:45 p.m. today in the Manor School multi-use room by Supt. Homer Sisk.

The two are Julius Barndt, who would teach eighth grade, and Irving T. Guild, seventh grade, both at Central School.

The board will receive the resignation of Edward Allen, who is to teach next term in the Kentfield district.

Bids on contracting for bus transportation of pupils and on sale of the district's old bus will be opened.

Council Takes No Action On Beautifying Proposal

The San Rafael City Council which has been discussing building a new city hall, took no action last night on a proposal for beautifying the front yard of the present one.

Gene O'Connor and Paul Steinmetz of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee presented Steinmetz's plan for converting the city hall's front yard into a little park, with a stone veterans' monument replacing the present obelisk.

They figured the cost at $1,345. O'Connor said Wilkins Post of the American Legion would put up $400 as cost of the new veterans' monument.

Councilmen looked over the plan, then referred it to City Manager Dan E. Andersen for study.

Also at last night's San Rafael Council meeting:

1. The Marin Bay Assessment District contract with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for underground lines in Marin Bay was approved, along with payment of $73,000 in Marin Bay development costs from the assessment district funds.

2. Final map of Terra Linda Subdivision Unit 16 was approved, as was a use permit for a Mobil Oil service station at Bellam and Francisco Boulevards.

3. A resolution was approved for trade of land between the city and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for the Lincoln Avenue extension, with the city paying PG&E $15,000.

4. Hearing on Union Oil Co.'s appeal from a planning commission turndown of a service station permit was set for June 5

5. City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw was given permission to leave the state from May 21 to July 2 for a tour of the South Seas. He announced two of his law partners, W. O. Weissich (former district attorney) and Leland H. Jordan (former county counsel) would be deputized to serve in his place during his absence.

6. City Clerk W. L. Morgan informed the council the capital improvement fund was $8,000 overdrawn, and was given permission to transfer $63,000 from the annexation fund to the capital improvement fund to covar the deficit and complete payment for Joseph Sauer Fire Station No. 3 and its equipment (Still to be covered is $33,000 for a new fire engine now on order.)

NO CALL OF THE WILD

Marilyn the Mallard (left), a waterfowl that thinks more like a woodduck, again has the management of the Remington Farms near Chestertown, Md., all a-jitter. Marilyn is nesting in a tree, 14 feet above the ground, keeping a clutch of 12 eggs warm. Everyone feels this is wrong. Marilyn, they say, should be 2,500 miles away in Canada with others of species trying to accomplish this feat in a more natural habitat. This is the third straight year the wacky bird spurned the call of the north. One of the farm hands (right) shows an egg from the nest. (AP Wirephoto)

Will Recorder Find Place For Office?

Should the county recorder's office be moved from the court house to the new civic center building?

Or should the plans be changed at this late date, picking another county office for removal to the civic center and keeping the recorder at the courthouse?

These will be questions before a special meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. Friday.

The questions arose when civic center architect Aaron Green asked the supervisors yesterday to "expedite your decisions" so office partition bids may be obtained on schedule.

He warned that delay might be costly, noting that special utility connections already are being built into the civic center building to accommodate the recorder's office.

Board Chairman William D. Fusselman recalled that a committee composed of Superior Court Judge Thomas Keating, County Clerk George S. Jones, and public works director Marvin W. Brigham had been handed the problem of reviewing space locations at the civic center.

Jones said judges, attorneys, title companies and others had asked that the recorder's office remain at the courthouse.

"So it is up to the supervisors now to determine whether or not the recorder should move," Jones declared.

Both Supervisors Walter R. Castro and William A. Gnoss said County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini had told them he would be agreeable to moving or staying, as the supervisors saw fit. They advocated that the original plan be followed.

"Apparently the information you get from the recorder is different from what he has told others," bristled Jones. He said Giacomini had told judges, attorneys and title companies that "his office belongs right here."

Jones indicated his opposition to the long-planned move, saying that recorder's and clerk's offices are "closely tied together" and should not be separated.

When architect Green asked the supervisors what offices might be moved to the civic center into the space previously planned for the recorder, the supervisors were silent, but Jones warned Green "you are moving too fast."

At one point, the discussion degenerated into an argument among Jones, Fusselman and Castro as to who was responsible for poor planning in the most recent addition to the old courthouse. Gnoss joined Castro on defense against Jones.

The argument ended when Fusselman called for the Friday morning meeting.

At that time, presumably, the supervisors will give the architect final instructions as to exactly what offices to plan partitions for.

COFFEE TIME AT COUNTY COURTHOUSE

If you have the opportunity to enjoy a cup of coffee on the second floor of the courthouse annex, you can thank the taxpayers of Marin County for the pleasure.

The Board of Supervisors voted unanimously yesterday to plunk out $85 from the county treasury to extend water and electric lines to facilitate installation of a coffee machine.

The action was taken in response to a letter from the public works department, setting for the estimated costs.

P.S. The coffee will still cost a dime per cup.

Taxpayers Unit Would Halt Reappraisal Plan

The Marin County Taxpayers Assn. asked the Board of Supervisors yesterday to take steps to halt County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel's cyclical reappraisal procedure.

In a letter signed by secretary Walter Lord, the taxpayers group asked Board Chairman William D. Fusselman to live up to his campaign pledges to force Broemmel to stop his "cynical" and "discriminatory" methods. The taxpayers group asked that funds be withheld from Broemmel until he agreed to stop.

"I never made any such statement," commented Fusselman in response to the letter. No action was taken on the request. Broemmel was not present.

The supervisors have accepted a request by a Marin County Grand Jury committee to meet with it behind closed doors tomorrow night to discuss the reappraisal system.

Cities Oppose Taxes Plan For Hospitals

The incoporated cities of Marin apparently have little use for the suggestion of Charles Clarkson of Novato that one-fourth of all local sales taxes be earmarked for county hospital construction.

Belvedere, Corte Madera and Fairfax yesterday were the first three municipalities to make their attitudes known to the board of supervisors. The registered varying degrees of opposition and indifference to the Clarkson proposal.

"But there are still seven towns yet to hear from," Supervisor William A. Gnoss commented optimistically.

Shopping Center To Offer Green Stamps

W. T. Grant Co. in the Corte Madera Shopping Center will begin offering S&H Green stamps with purchases by customers tomorrow, manager Lester E. Beardsley announced today.

Free copies of the new Sperry and Hutchinson Co. "Ideabook" describing merchandise available to green stamp savers can be obtained at the Grant store.

Confirm Appointment

County supervisors yesterday confirmed the appointment of W. J. Williams to the Kentfield Fire Protection District board, to fill a vacancy caused by resignation of Bill De France.

Multiple Zone Proposal Is Rejected By Council

The San Rafael City Council turned down one application for multiple residence rezoning last night, and almost approved another.

By unanimous vote, the council reversed the planning commission's approval of Spero Spiliotis's request for rezoning from single-family dwellings of an area between Bayo Vista Way and Scenic Avenue in the West End to permit four duplexes and 24 garden apartments.

It put over to next Monday at 5 p.m. action on an application by Henry Ghilotti for rezoning of 220,000 square feet of a quarried-off hillside in Bret Harte at the end of Irwin Street, also now single family, to permit duplexes on 10,000-foot lots.

In postponing the latter decision, councilmen expressed desire to tack onto approval of the duplex zoning those provisions of "planned community" zoning which would retain city control of architecture, landscaping, etc. — a suggestion advanced by Acting City Planner James Garrett. But later, after perusing city zoning and subdivision ordinances, City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw informed the council this would be impossible.

"You might as well act tonight," said Bagshaw.

"In fairness to the people who were here and have gone home, we have to have another meeting," declared Councilman Louis H. Baar. His fellow council members agreed.

Bagshaw was instructed to try to work out with Samuel W. Gardiner, attorney for Ghilotti, some agreement which would retain city control of the development.

Bagshaw himself figured in protests against the Bayo Vista rezoning.

Planner Garrett — who advocated the rezoning — posted a map marked with a red dot for each of 65 properties represented on a petition of protest. Attorney John L. Rockwell, appearing to present the protest of Raymond Morrison of 16 Bayo Vista Way, owner of two acres of adjoining property, noted that one of the dots appeared to designate Bagshaw's home at Fifth and Scenic Avenues.

After a procession of other speakers against the rezoning, Bagshaw arose to say: "I did not sign the petition in opposition. That is because it was not presented to me. . . . I think we've had enough apartment zoning out there. . . .This would be another step in degrading a first-class residential area."

Spiliotis contended the zoning would create a "buffer" between the Tropicana Apartments and adjoining single-family dwelling zones. But objectors said apartment zoning should extend no farther.

There was a heavier protest petition against the Ghilotti rezoning on Irwin Street. It was joined by the Bret Harte Heights Assn., the Bret Harte Civic Assn., nine speakers and 202 signers of a protest petition. Ghilotti's only friend at court, besides his attorney, was Ted Gibson of Mill Valley, owner of the 50 acres adjoining and uphill from the Ghilotti property.

But Mayor John F. McInnis, who pointed out he had lived 12 years in Bret Harte and had fought earlier petitions for duplex and apartment zoning, declared the duplexes on 10,000-foot lots would create less scar than single family homes on 5,000-foot lots — which could be built without rezoning. Other councilmen expressed agreement.

No Approval For Church From Planners

The Episcopal Church of the Nativity, granted tentative approval last January to build on a four-acre site at the end of Ellen Drive in Marinwood, failed to obtain final approval of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Commissioners voted to eliminate access to the church's 75-car parking lot from Ellen Drive on the south and postponed until June 5 decision on final approval.

Last January the only apparent impediment to the church structure was a matter of easement rights through adjoining land on the north, being considered for purchase by Dixie School District.

Yesterday a letter from Dixie Supt. Dennie B. Willis assured the commission that if the school district obtained the land, it would grant the church an easement.

But a group of church representatives led by Col. Philip M. Royce of 2200 Juniperberry Drive, chairman of the building and grounds committee, understood that one-way access to the parking lot was to be permitted off Ellen Drive.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. declared access from that street must be prohibited.

Group To Protest Park Proposal

A group of Marin citizens will travel by chartered bus Thursday to Sacramento to protest a resolution by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy calling for a Point Reyes National Seashore reduced in area to 20,000 acres.

The chartered bus, which is sponsored by the group, calling itself the Point Reyes Auxiliary, will leave the San Rafael Greyhound depot at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. Reservations for the trip are being taken by Mmes. Russell J. Merret, William MacKay, Stanley Anderson and Daniel Turrentine, committee members.

Bitten By Dog

Paul Becker, 21, of 250 Alpine Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a dog bite on the right thigh.

Probation Employee To Get Overtime

The Marin County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to pay Don R. Miller, a probation office employee, $30,60 for 10 hours overtime work.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair voted against payment.

When a letter from Probation Officer Walter Busher was first read, requesting payment, Blair advocated turning down the request. Turning aside suggestions for "getting more information" Blair said "my mind is already made up."

Blair said comensatory time off would be given in lieu of overtime pay.

But Board Chairman William D. Fusselman recessed the session 15 minutes while Busher was summoned to explain.

The probation officer said Miller already had accumulated considerable compensatory time off and it was not feasible to add more. He explained that the 10 hours in question was fill-in while a regular week-end deputy was on vacation.

Fusselman observed that while compensatory time off was desirable, there were situations when it was not feasible. He indicated his support for Busher's proposal.

Corte Madera Accepts Light Signals Report

Corte Madera Town Council members last night unanimously accepted Town Manager Arthur Brando's report on the constructing four flashing signal lights at the Paradise Drive railroad crossing.

Brandow told the councilmen he had met with Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works, and Robert A. Lathrop, engineer for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and discussed the costs.

Lathrop estimated the cost would be $7,000. He said the Northwestern Pacific would pay a quarter of it. The Town of Corte Madera and Marin County would each pay 37½ per cent, or $2,625 each.

Corte Madera and Marin County would probably be reimbursed from the state $875 each, Brandon said.

"It seems to be an equitable solution," Mayor Albert E. Kogler said.

Councilmen requested the railroad to make a detailed estimate.

Next Monday the council hopes to appoint a new councilman to replace Roger F. Morse, who resigned May 1. The council will hold an adjourned meeting to take this up, along with the proposed personnel ordinance and completion of a salary review for Corte Madera Police. Councilmen are attempting to set up the range scale for sergeant and inspector.

The council set a public hearing for June 19 at 8 p.m. to clarify the ordinance on sign permits. At 8:30 p.m. on that date the council will hold a public hearing on changing the free-standing ordinance. Hearings will be in town hall.

In other business, the council:

1. Approved a use permit for James Stockman of the Edgewater Inn to construct a large free-standing sign, 10 by 20 feet high. It will be on the northeast corner of the inn and will have indirect lighting.

2. Accepted the treasurer's report for April which showed receipts of $58,554.98 and demands paid totaling $22,106.75. The balance in the town treasury is $141,553.84. Brandow pointed out the reason the balance was so high was that the special district funds included the Paradise Drive drainage project.

3. Called bids for purchase of a Ford police car, to be opened June 5. Councilmen agreed the new car should match the one they purchased in February.

4. Town Atty. John B. Ehlen reported he had prepared the release of all claims for Dr. Gertrude Casey of 22 Mohawk Avenue. The release will go along with the $1,016 settlement the town has agreed upon for the expense caused her when her use permit to conduct a practice at her home was revoked.

5. Passed an ordinance establishing the speed limit of 25 miles per hour on Fifer Avenue from Nellen Avenue to Lucky Road. The councilmen said that appropriate signs would be constructed.

6. Heard Town Clerk Nayadeen Penny report that three members of the park and recreation commission will have to either be reappointed or replaced. Terms expire June 1 for Col. John Vance, Reginald Chisholm and Jon D. Joslyn.

Council Rejects Proposal For Hillside Apartments

Corte Madera Town Council last night unanimously turned down Kenneth H. Solares' request for apartment zoning for his Corte Madera Heights project on the woodside hill area bordered by Corte Madera Avenue and the town limits.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission on May 1 rejected Solares' application to change the zoning from single family residential-agricultural.

In what started out to be a request to the town fathers to overrule the planners' decision, Solares and his attorney, Harold F. Riede, attempted to get the councilmen to give an opinion as to whether they favor the plan for an apartment community.

"It would be out of order to give an opinion on how we feel on the matter of developing apartments like this in the area," Mayor Albert E. Kogler said.

Riede asked the council to consider granting a use permit for apartment buildings.

The public hearing was on the question of rezoning, the councilmen emphasized. On that, the council uanimously said no.

Resignations Accepted From Two Retiring Tam Teachers

Resignations of two longtime Tamalpais Union High School District teachers, both retiring from the profession, were accepted last night by the district's board of trustees.

Mrs. Verna G. Foster, an English teacher for 33 years, and Mrs. Rae B. Kappleman, a history teacher for 32 years, both at Tamalpais High School, requested retirement at the close of this school term.

Karen Andrews, home economics teacher at Tamalpais High School, also resigned.

The board hired four new teachers for Redwood High School: Anthony S. Compagno of 48 Stag Hound Passage, Corte Madera, to teach industrial arts; Nicholas J. Gennaro of San Francisco, English; Roberta L. Kennedy of Berkeley, mathematics, and William D. Wilkinson of Greenfield, Monterey County, English.

The board awarded a $14,739 contract to Malotte Peterson and Grundy of San Francisco to construct three tennis courts at Sir Francis Drake high school, to be financed from the recreation fund.

The Benchwarmers Club, a parent boosters club for Redwood high school, asked the board to investigate the possibilities of building a swimming pool at Redwood high school. The board authorized the superintendent to meet with the group.

Pugh either jumped or fell 20 feet to the concrete pavement in the Presidio, Beck told the California Highway Patrol.

Banducci Is Due Release From Jail

Enrico Banducci of Sausalito, the casually dressed owner of the Hungry I and Enrico's, was due for release at 5 p.m. today from the San Francisco jail where he was sentenced to 24 hours for contempt of court yesterday.

Banducci stirred the wrath of Judge Joseph Karesh by appearing yesterday in San Francisco Superior Court wearing beret, V-neck sweater and open-collared shirt to testify in a domestic relations hearing for Hungry I folk singer Stan Wilson.

The judge suggested that Banducci put on a coat and tie for the afternoon session.

Banducci reappeared in the afternoon in the same attire, beret in hand. "Contempt" declared the judge after an exchange, and Banducci was led away to begin his sentence.

Sanitary Low Bids Told In Tiburon

C. Norman Peterson of Berkeley was low bidder last night on expansion of the Tiburon Sanitary District sewage treatment plant, and Linscott Co. of San Rafael was low on construction of additional sewer lines for the system.

Bids, opened at a meeting of district directors, were referred to the district's engineers for study before awarding of contracts.

Four bids on the plant expansion ranged from Peterson's low of $374,672 to a high of $429,142 by S. and Q. Construction Co. of South San Francisco. Seven offers on the pipeline job ranged from Linscott's $114,055 to a high of $151,749 by Associated Pipeline, South San Francisco.

The sewer line low bid was $14,000 under the engineering estimate and the low plant expansion bid was 12 per cent higher than the estimate, District Sec. Robert A. Sterling reported.

At a protest hearing on the Upland Area Sewer Assessment District, both the Hilarita Housing Project and Fred G. Zelinsky complained that their assessments were unfair. The board took no action but referred the complaints to engineers.

Ross Board Hears School Library Plan

The Ross School Board last night heard preliminary plans for converting the school bicycle shed into a library, and will seek more information on the possibility.

The board approved all nonteaching contracts with an approximately four per cent raise included for next fall.

Enrico Banducci of Sausalito, the casually dressed owner of the Hungry I and Enrico's, was due for release at 5 p.m. today from the San Francisco jail where he was sentenced to 24 hours for contempt of court yesterday.

Banducci stirred the wrath of Judge Joseph Karesh by appearing yesterday in San Francisco Superior Court wearing beret, V-neck sweater and open-collared shirt to testify in a domestic relations hearing for Hungry I folk singer Stan Wilson.

The judge suggested that Banducci put on a coat and tie for the afternoon session.

Banducci reappeared in the afternoon in the same attire, beret in hand. "Contempt" declared the judge after an exchange, and Banducci was led away to begin his sentence.

Sanitary Low Bids Told In Tiburon

C. Norman Peterson of Berkeley was low bidder last night on expansion of the Tiburon Sanitary District sewage treatment plant, and Linscott Co. of San Rafael was low on construction of additional sewer lines for the system.

Bids, opened at a meeting of district directors, were referred to the district's engineers for study before awarding of contracts.

Four bids on the plant expansion ranged from Peterson's low of $374,672 to a high of $429,142 by S. and Q. Construction Co. of South San Francisco. Seven offers on the pipeline job ranged from Linscott's $114,055 to a high of $151,749 by Associated Pipeline, South San Francisco.

The sewer line low bid was $14,000 under the engineering estimate and the low plant expansion bid was 12 per cent higher than the estimate, District Sec. Robert A. Sterling reported.

At a protest hearing on the Upland Area Sewer Assessment District, both the Hilarita Housing Project and Fred G. Zelinsky complained that their assessments were unfair. The board took no action but referred the complaints to engineers.

Ross Board Hears School Library Plan

The Ross School Board last night heard preliminary plans for converting the school bicycle shed into a library, and will seek more information on the possibility.

The board approved all nonteaching contracts with an approximately four per cent raise included for next fall.

It agreed to continue with the Marin County operated program for mentally retarded children.

Hired for next year was Sharon Sue Aisthorp as fifth grade teacher. She is now teaching in the Mount Diablo Elementary School District in Concord.

Use of the school playground for parking for the Marin Council Boy Scouts Jamboree June 3 and for the Marin Art and Garden Fair was approved.

HOME PORT AT MARIN HOME

Easily berthed at rear of the W. T. Clevendon Jr. home at 54 Sea Way, San Rafael, is Clevendon's 42-foot motor-sailer, "Eight Bells." This cutter type of vessel is much in demand in Marin, with its five-foot, six-inch draft and sleeping accommodations for six persons. The Clevendons have entered it twice in the Acapulco races and cruise frequently in both inland and coastal waters. It's all part of Marin's famous outdoor living, to be featured in a special 14-page Outdoor Living section of the Independent-Journal on Thursday. (Independent-Journal photo)

Delay May Mean New Trial For Convict

A three-week delay in sentencing, for a pre-sentence report by the probation department, may get San Quentin prisoner Eugene D. Edwards Jr. a new trial on an attempted escape charge.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori yesterday ordered the report for June 5, even though Edwards is ineligible for probation because he is a prisoner. The delay would give Edwards, through the public defender, a chance to gather necessary information for a new trial, the judge explained.

"I want every avenue of assistance open to the defendant be made available to him for a motion for a new trial," Judge Brusatori said.

In explaining his request for the report which would cause a three weeks delay, Judge Brusatori said:

"Mrs. Hubert W. Nelson, one of the jurors, has since come to me with the information that she overheard two of the jurors state that they had discussed the trial with their spouses."

Edwards had appeared before Judge Brusatori on May 8 for sentencing. At that time, the judge told him that the jury foreman, Gordon S. Jones, had come to him with information. Jones told the judge that he had driven past San Quentin during the trial. This was in direct violation of the judges orders for the trial to be judged only on the evidence submitted in the courtroom. The judge granted a continuance of one week.

Judge Brusatori urged Edwards to accept the services of the public defender. Edwards had refused the services of the public defender and acted as his own attorney during the trial.

"It's regrettable that the defendant hasn't taken the assistance of the public defender because the defendant cannot do the investigating work for himself because he is incarcerated," Judge Brusatori said.

Edwards then asked for the public defender.

Edwards was found guilty by a jury of charges that he attempted to escape in a hideout at the prison in January. In his defense, Edwards claimed he was in fear of his life because of prison gambling debts that had followed him from Soledad. He staged the hideout in hope of being transferred to another institution.

Vandals Spray Motors In Shop

Vandals sprayed grey, green and red paint over boat motors, walls and a motor testing tank in Jim's Sport Shop in Novato Friday.

A gallon of resin also was poured into gas tanks and cans and into the testing tank, operator Hubert A. Lackey told Novato police. Police were looking for suspects about 9 to 12 years of age, because of the height of paint which had been sprayed on walls.

The St. Lawrence Seaway project created 38,000-acre Lake St. Lawrence in Ontario.

Marin Planners Split On Neider's Proposal

Marin County Planning Commissioners split down the middle yesterday over Samuel R. Neider's proposal to rezone 25 acres of the Strawberry Point tidelands to planned residential.

Commissioners Niels Schultz Jr., George Scott and John S. Switzer voted in favor of the proposed rezoning while commissioners Worth Fenner, Felix M. Warburg and William Upton balloted against the change.

The proposal will be presented to the Marin Counuty Board of Supervisors within 40 days for a public hearing date to be set announced Planning Director Mary Summers.

No mention was made at yesterday's meeting of the controversial tower apartments that have been proposed for the site.

San Rafael attorney Bryan R. McCarthy, advocating the rezoning, noted that the area was near "shopping, schools and churches."

Jury Trial Scheduled For Bongo Drummer

Bearded, bongo-drum-beating Victor Andrew Gipson, 27, is able to cooperate with his attorneys, two psychiatrists reported yesterday to Superior Court Judge Richards Sims Jr.

Judge Sims set June 27 as the time for a jury trial for Gipson in Department 3, Superior Court.

Gipson is accused of setting fire to his own house last March in Mill Valley. He changed his original plea of not guilty to not guilty by reason of insanity.

Judge Sims appointed Dr. Bernard L. Diamond of Ross and Dr. Theo K. Miller of Napa State Hospital to examine Gipson. They reported to Judge Sims yesterday.

Pilot Medical Research Talk Set Saturday

A new concept of pilot medical research will be explained by Robert Adler of Mill Valley, City of Hope area director, Saturday at a civic dinner-rally in Marin.

The event, set for 7:30 p.m. at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, is the kickoff for the annual Volunteer Neighbors March on June 1, when thousands of housewives will ring doorbells seeking support for the City of Hope's battle against such diseases as cancer, leukemia, heart, chest and blood ailments.

Honorary co-chairmen of the dinner and of the June 1 fund appeal include Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori; County Supervisor Walter Castro; Mrs. Henry Foster, Mill Valley social and civic leader; County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini; County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis; Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholem, and Mayor John F. McInnis, City Councilman Fred Jensen and City Manager Dan E. Andersen of San Rafael.

Adler, who directs activities in northern California and nine other western states for City of Hope, will tell how the City of Hope pilot medical program has influenced medical procedures at other institutions.

Founded in 1913, the City of Hope National Medical Center at Duarte, California, offers free hospital care to patients referred by their doctors from all over the nation.

Reservations for the dinner may be obtained from Mrs. Henry Pierce, president of the Vanguards of City of Hope, or from Harold Neuman.

Adult Education Emphasized In Churchman's Talk

In an address to some 15 Marin County ministers, President Theodore Gill of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo said that the focus of Christian education is shifting from Sunday school to adult education.

Speaking Friday afternoon to the Marin ministers about the Bay Area Laymen's School of Religion, Dr. Gill emphasized the difficulty of persuading the adult in a sophisticated world that the church holds anything for him, thus the shift.

"We cannot trust the informed child to educate the parents, but educated parents will see that the child becomes educated," stated Dr. Gill, who is a member of the school's board of directors. "We are moving toward educating the adult with the right hand and the child with the left," he added.

Improvement Assn. Names Officers

Norman R. Barnett of 25 Stagehound Passage, Corte Madera, has been appointed president of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn.

Barnett will hold down the presidency until April 1 next year.

Other officers appointed were: Donald R. Fulton, vice president; Robert C. Coleman, secretary, and Albert J. Boro, treasurer.

The board of directors of the association are Raymond J. Brandt, chairman; Donald J. Devoto, David Dooley, Chester R. MacPhee Jr., Elmer Ray Jones and James C. Tonge Jr.

Bearded, bongo-drum-beating Victor Andrew Gipson, 27, is able to cooperate with his attorneys, two psychiatrists reported yesterday to Superior Court Judge Richards Sims Jr.

Judge Sims set June 27 as the time for a jury trial for Gipson in Department 3, Superior Court.

Gipson is accused of setting fire to his own house last March in Mill Valley. He changed his original plea of not guilty to not guilty by reason of insanity.

Judge Sims appointed Dr. Bernard L. Diamond of Ross and Dr. Theo K. Miller of Napa State Hospital to examine Gipson. They reported to Judge Sims yesterday.

Pilot Medical Research Talk Set Saturday

A new concept of pilot medical research will be explained by Robert Adler of Mill Valley, City of Hope area director, Saturday at a civic dinner-rally in Marin.

The event, set for 7:30 p.m. at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, is the kickoff for the annual Volunteer Neighbors March on June 1, when thousands of housewives will ring doorbells seeking support for the City of Hope's battle against such diseases as cancer, leukemia, heart, chest and blood ailments.

Honorary co-chairmen of the dinner and of the June 1 fund appeal include Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori; County Supervisor Walter Castro; Mrs. Henry Foster, Mill Valley social and civic leader; County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini; County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis; Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholem, and Mayor John F. McInnis, City Councilman Fred Jensen and City Manager Dan E. Andersen of San Rafael.

Adler, who directs activities in northern California and nine other western states for City of Hope, will tell how the City of Hope pilot medical program has influenced medical procedures at other institutions.

Founded in 1913, the City of Hope National Medical Center at Duarte, California, offers free hospital care to patients referred by their doctors from all over the nation.

Reservations for the dinner may be obtained from Mrs. Henry Pierce, president of the Vanguards of City of Hope, or from Harold Neuman.

Adult Education Emphasized In Churchman's Talk

In an address to some 15 Marin County ministers, President Theodore Gill of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo said that the focus of Christian education is shifting from Sunday school to adult education.

Speaking Friday afternoon to the Marin ministers about the Bay Area Laymen's School of Religion, Dr. Gill emphasized the difficulty of persuading the adult in a sophisticated world that the church holds anything for him, thus the shift.

"We cannot trust the informed child to educate the parents, but educated parents will see that the child becomes educated," stated Dr. Gill, who is a member of the school's board of directors. "We are moving toward educating the adult with the right hand and the child with the left," he added.

GAGARIN GETS A CHECKUP

U.S. Reports Economy Boom

WASHINGTON (UPI)—New evidence that the economy scored a strong widespread gain in April was reported today by Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges.

Hodges announced sizeable increases in personal incomes, especially wages and salaries, and in factory sales and new orders.

Individual incomes reached a record annual rate of $410.3 billion up 2.3 billion dollars from the March rate and 4.1 billion dollars from the February pace. Wage and salary payments advanced smartly, with more than half their increase in manufacturing.

New orders and sales of durable goods each advanced 4 per cent in April, unusually large monthly increases.

These statistics supported earlier government reports of a snappy 2.5 per cent April rise in industrial production and an increase in non-farm jobs.

Round Two Coming Up On Belvedere Proposal

The problem of Belvedere's West Shore Development has come full circle and last night landed again on the agenda of the Belvedere Planning Commission.

The proposed subdivision has long been the subject of controversy at both city council and planning commission meetings. Involved are 49 homesites on partially filled and partially inundated land on a three-quarter mile strip hugging the west cliff of Belvedere island.

Developer is Belvedere Properties Co. who won a round in their fight for approval by a recent court verdict. The court ruled the city ordinance prohibiting building on inundated land was a violation of the state subdivision map act. This act states a governing body may disapprove a subdivision because of flood hazard and inundation and require protective measures before building.

Although a map of the proposed subdivision was resubmitted by the company, the commission last night did not approve it.

Commissioners George E. Banning and Joseph C. Marshall were appointed to a committee with a yet-unnamed city council member to meet with the developer.

Chairman George Goddard requested that the map be revised to eliminate Unit No. 1, already approved, and to include a more typical cross section of the lot. The developer was also asked to delineate the "precise meandering line of fill" and to include small multi-purpose recreation areas.

The suggestion that a road be built on the water side of the lot instead of cliff side was objected to strenuously.

A black bear weighing 700 pounds was shot on Rich Mountain in Polk County, Ark., as late as 1937.

Ball Players 'Out' Briefly

Three young Novato baseball players were "out" briefly, but will play another day after trips to Novato Hospital.

At 6:30 p.m., Larry Itanen, 8, of 592 Louis Drive, went to the hospital for check of a scalp cut after he'd been hit in the head during sandlot play near his home. He'll still be able to play on the Little League Eagles team managed by his father, Paul N. Itanen.

At 8 p.m., Jim Moore, 11, went to the hospital after suffering a cut chin when hit by a ball during a practice session of his Little League team, the Sacs. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Moore, 1381 Donna Street.

At 8:45 p.m., James Henderson Jr. went to the hospital for a checkup after having been hit on his protective headgear by a pitched ball during a practice session of the Little League Angels team. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, 1108 East Court Street.

Lectures On Smoking Opened At Novato

The Marin Medical Society opened its special series of lectures on the dangers of teenage smoking yesterday at Hill School in Novato.

Dr. Gerald Hill, San Rafael psychiatrist who is chairman of the society's public relations committee, addressed a class of 30 students at the school. He was to address another class today, and others throughout the remainder of the week until all students at the school have received the message.

The lecture series was undertaken after a survey at a school —unnamed—in Marin County showed 85 per cent of the youngsters admitting they had smoked.

Dr. Hill took a similar survey of the class he addressed yesterday and informed them that the replies showed 79 per cent had tried smoking and "some 19 per cent of you are regular smokers—at least half a pack a day."

He said a survey of all students at Hill—a seventh-eighth grade school—showed 63 per cent have tried smoking.

After warning the youngsters that smoking is a hard habit to break, the doctor showed a 20-minute Cancer Society color film, "To Smoke Or Not To Smoke."

He cited the rapid rise in lung cancer. When a picture of a cut-away section of a cancerous lung was flashed on the screen, some girls screamed and turned their heads away.

Students Tour Centers

About 35 students from Novato High School yesterday toured the data processing and finance centers at Hamilton Air Force Base. With instructor Alton J. Fountain they saw how personnel information is kept on IBM cards and saw pay-day duties at the finance office.

County Planners Continue Alto Bowl Zone Hearing

Hearings on the Marin Capital Co. proposal to develop 188 acres of barren county land adjacent to Mill Valley and Corte Madera was continued to the next two meetings yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The area—part of the Alto Bowl—is now zoned limited agricultural and suburban agricultural. It is bounded on the north by Hidden Valley, Corte Madera, on the east by U.S. Highway 101 and on the south by Lomita Drive, Alto.

Architect Rolland B. Hammond said that under the proposed plan, 25 per cent of the area would be landscaped, 25 per cent used for recreational, school and church sites, and 50 per cent for two types of residential buildings.

One-half and one-acre single-family residentral lots are slated for the upper northern portion and along the top of the ridge adjacent to Meadowsweet, Hammond explained.

Fifty apartment groups are planned for the area below the ridge. Each group would be built on one-half to one-and-a-half-acre site according to the following set of conditions:

1. Height limitation of 2½ stories not to exceed 35 feet.
2. Minimum area of 30,000 square feet and maximum of 60,000 square feet (with a possibility of lowering the minimum to 20,000 square feet.)
3. Separation of building sites by either natural landscape or recreational areas.

The recretional areas would be dedicted to Marin County and would be renewed after a specified period of time, Hammond noted. The recreational facilities "would be maintained by private means."

The planning commission voted in favor of permitting Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to build a radio microwave repeater station on the middle peak of Mount Tamalpais. A 56-foot lattice steel tower is proposed for the site. The approval was made subject to conditions to assure minimum defacement of the mountain.

The planning commissioners also:

1. Voted unanimously to recommend reclassification of property at 11 Knoll Road, Alto, from duplex to apartment district.
2. Approved development plans for the extension of the Palm Lane Trailer Court, on the southeast corner of Armstrong Avenue and Atherton Avenue adjoining Novato, as an interim use in a planned commercial district.
3. Approved an adjustment to permit a 6,000-square-foot building site belonging to Vernon E Danley at Almonte Boulevard and Helen Avenue, Mill Valley, to be divided by lease into two parcels having less than required area and less than 60-foot average width.
4. Approved a tentative map for Bel Marin Keys, 163-acre subdivision on Marin Meadows Ranch in Ignacio.
5. Recommended approval of use permit for additions to be made to Marin General Hospital.
6. Approved tentative map for Sleepy Hollow subdivision of Harold Lang.
7. Recommended approval of plans for 18-unit apartment house to be built by Frank C. Stranzl on the west side of Merrydale Road, 600 feet southeast of San Pedro Road, north San Rafael.
8. Approved tentative map for Bahia del Norte subdivision, 43 acres bounded on the south by lands of Wiemer and elsewhere by Novato Land Co. in area proposed for annexation to Novato.
9. Continued consideration of time limit placed on approval of Palm Lane Trailer Village, Armstrong and Atherton Avenues, outside Novato. Time limit expires June, 1966. The application requests extension to 1971.

Dixie School Board Has Three Items

Dixie School District trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district office at 4775 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, with three items on the agenda.

They are: (1) budget for fiscal 1962; (2) recommendation for additions to Lucas Valley School; (3) traffic lights at Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue.

Sausalito Hearing Tonight On Hotels

The Sausalito City Council will continue two public hearings at its meeting at 8 p.m. today. One is concerned with an application for variances to allow building of a 49-room hotel in the 700 block on Bridgeway. The other is concerned with adopting a "stop-gap" ordinance to suspend all use permits for 120 days for the building of hotels in one portion of the city.

The coral polyp, master builder of coral reefs, is a simple, tubelike animal no bigger than a pinhead. Early in its life, the polyp encases itself in a limestone skeleton of its own making. In time the individual polyp homes are cemented into dense masses by rock-hard coralline algae.

County Planners Continue Alto Bowl Zone Hearing

Hearings on the Marin Capital Co. proposal to develop 188 acres of barren county land adjacent to Mill Valley and Corte Madera was continued to the next two meetings yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The area—part of the Alto Bowl—is now zoned limited agricultural and suburban agricultural. It is bounded on the north by Hidden Valley, Corte Madera, on the east by U.S. Highway 101 and on the south by Lomita Drive, Alto.

Architect Rolland B. Hammond said that under the proposed plan, 25 per cent of the area would be landscaped, 25 per cent used for recreational, school and church sites, and 50 per cent for two types of residential buildings.

One-half and one-acre single-family residentral lots are slated for the upper northern portion and along the top of the ridge adjacent to Meadowsweet, Hammond explained.

Fifty apartment groups are planned for the area below the ridge. Each group would be built on one-half to one-and-a-half-acre site according to the following set of conditions:

1. Height limitation of 2½ stories not to exceed 35 feet.
2. Minimum area of 30,000 square feet and maximum of 60,000 square feet (with a possibility of lowering the minimum to 20,000 square feet.)
3. Separation of building sites by either natural landscape or recreational areas.

The recretional areas would be dedicted to Marin County and would be renewed after a specified period of time, Hammond noted. The recreational facilities "would be maintained by private means."

The planning commission voted in favor of permitting Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to build a radio microwave repeater station on the middle peak of Mount Tamalpais. A 56-foot lattice steel tower is proposed for the site. The approval was made subject to conditions to assure minimum defacement of the mountain.

The planning commissioners also:

1. Voted unanimously to recommend reclassification of property at 11 Knoll Road, Alto, from duplex to apartment district.
2. Approved development plans for the extension of the Palm Lane Trailer Court, on the southeast corner of Armstrong Avenue and Atherton Avenue adjoining Novato, as an interim use in a planned commercial district.
3. Approved an adjustment to permit a 6,000-square-foot building site belonging to Vernon E Danley at Almonte Boulevard and Helen Avenue, Mill Valley, to be divided by lease into two parcels having less than required area and less than 60-foot average width.
4. Approved a tentative map for Bel Marin Keys, 163-acre subdivision on Marin Meadows Ranch in Ignacio.
5. Recommended approval of use permit for additions to be made to Marin General Hospital.
6. Approved tentative map for Sleepy Hollow subdivision of Harold Lang.
7. Recommended approval of plans for 18-unit apartment house to be built by Frank C. Stranzl on the west side of Merrydale Road, 600 feet southeast of San Pedro Road, north San Rafael.
8. Approved tentative map for Bahia del Norte subdivision, 43 acres bounded on the south by lands of Wiemer and elsewhere by Novato Land Co. in area proposed for annexation to Novato.
9. Continued consideration of time limit placed on approval of Palm Lane Trailer Village, Armstrong and Atherton Avenues, outside Novato. Time limit expires June, 1966. The application requests extension to 1971.

Dixie School Board Has Three Items

Dixie School District trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district office at 4775 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, with three items on the agenda.

They are: (1) budget for fiscal 1962; (2) recommendation for additions to Lucas Valley School; (3) traffic lights at Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue.

Sausalito Hearing Tonight On Hotels

The Sausalito City Council will continue two public hearings at its meeting at 8 p.m. today. One is concerned with an application for variances to allow building of a 49-room hotel in the 700 block on Bridgeway. The other is concerned with adopting a "stopgap" ordinance to suspend all use permits for 120 days for the building of hotels in one portion of the city.

CONSTIPATION DUE TO DEHYDRATION

Al Dark's Big Problem: There Are Too Many Giant Sluggers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—You wouldn't know it to look at the National League standings but Alvin Dark has a problem.

How does he find room in the lineup for all his slugging San Francisco Giants?

Dark's devastators demolished the Chicago Cubs 14-1 yesterday. Felipe Alou clouted a first-inning grandslam and two singles. Orlando Cepeda knocked in five runs with two homers and a double. Jim Davenport climbed to fourth among the league's batters with three hits, boosting his average to .361.

The rest of the Giants added nine more hits, making Mike McCormick's fourth victory a breeze. He hasn't lost since opening day when he gave up a home run pitch in relief against Pittsburgh.

Which brings us back to Dark's dilemma: Does he break up that explosive lineup to get southpaw swingers Willie McCovey and Charley Hiller at right-hander Dick Drott tonight?

"Well," drawled Alvin. "I'll just have to sleep on that. Those fellows hit pretty well, didn't they?"

After disposing of Cub southpaw starter Dick Ellsworth with frightening alacrity—he gave up five runs without retiring a man—the Giants mauled two other left-handers and two right-handed pitchers. Only Bob Anderson escaped without giving up a run. Ellsworth was the loser, his third without a victory.

You can't blame Dark for wanting McCovey swinging against right-handers. Despite a .195 batting average, he's blasted six homers and knocked in 19 runs.

Hiller has been hitting better with every game. The Giants won the last six games he started at second base.

But Harvey Kuenn and Joe Amalfitano, the right-handed swingers who have been supplanting McCovey and Hiller, have been improving too.

Little Matty Alou, sent in to replace Willie Mays with the Giants ahead 13-1, socked his first major league homer in his only time at bat. Felipe's kid brother, just 5-foot-9 and 152 pounds, gave the ball a terrific ride.

"Baseball is a game that you play day by day," said Dark. "We'll take batting practice again today."

Right-hander Jack Sanford (1-3) will pitch for the Giants tonight.

PASTOR FIRES HOLE IN ONE AT NOVATO

A San Rafael minister, playing with a fellow clergyman, shot a hole in one yesterday on the 147-yard No. 13 hole at Novato's Indian Valley Golf Club.

Scoring the ace was Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church.

He was playing with a Novato minister, Rev. Ole Winter.

Rev. Braunschweiger shot his hole in one with a No. 7 iron. He has been golfing about five years and usually shoots around 90 for an 18-hole round.

NICE GOING, BROTHER—Yesterday was a big day for the Alou brothers, Felipe and Matty, as the San Francisco Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 14-1 in Candlestick Park. Here Felipe (23) shakes his brother's hand as Matty comes across home plate after spanking an eighth inning homer, his first in the major leagues. Felipe clouted his first grand slam homer in the first inning. (AP Wirephoto)

Mathews' Torid Bat Gives Braves Boost

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Mathews is back doing what comes naturally, hammering home runs and giving the Milwaukee Braves that old power look once more.

Through the first 21 games of the season, Mathews, No. 6 on the all-time National League home run list, had hit just one. Now he's tagged five in four games while running second in the batting race with a .378 average and a 14-game hitting streak.

Mathews rifled a pair over the right and center field barriers last night, driving in three runs as the Braves defeated the Dodgers 7-5, handing southpaw Johnny Podres his first defeat.

That dropped the second place Dodgers two games behind the San Francisco Giants, who broke loose for a 14-1 romp over the Chicago Cubs. The only other game scheduled in the N.L., St. Louis at Pittsburgh, was rained out.

In the American League, Detroit upped its lead to three games over idle New York by beating Baltimore 10-5. Minnesota trimmed Chicago's White Sox 5-0, Cleveland battered Boston 13-2 and Kansas City defeated the Los Angeles Angels 5-3 in the only other games scheduled.

Lew Burdette 3-1 won two in a row for the first time this season—and also drove in three Braves runs with a single and his first home run of the year. It was the eighth straight success in the Coliseum for Burdette, who gave up seven hits.

Wally Moon, retaining the N.L. bat lead at .384 tripled and scored the first run for the Dodgers by stealing home with two out in the second inning. Charlie Neal hit a two-hun homer in the ninth.

Gordon Gives Orders From The Pressbox

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Joe Gordon managed the Kansas City Athletics from the press box last night and discovered what every baseball writer has claimed for years—it's better that way.

The proof was a 5-3 remote control victory over the Los Angeles Angels and a promise from Gordon that he would be back tonight with the telephone glued to his ear for a second trial run.

The A's skipper yielded to a suggestion by Frank Lane, the Athletics' general manager, and joined the news contingent. He relayed his directions by telephone to Coach Ed Fitzgerald who, in some shadowy manner, sent them to Coach Jo Jo White in the third base box.

"I missed the close contact with my players and I don't think this is the ideal way to manage a baseball club but it has some value," said Gordon. "You can see things you can't see from the low level of the dugout. I noticed right away that one of my outfielders was playing too close for those Los Angeles power hitters. One of our better batters was standing too close to the plate. I couldn't have seen either of these flaws from the dugout. Actually, Frank and I tried this to see if it wouldn't be valuable to have someone up here all the time—if not the manager, one of our coaches."

And, said Gordon, he found out that rookie shortstop Dick Howser is covering even more ground than he thought.

"I knew he was good but from this vantage point some 30 feet above the playing field, I could see how good he really is," Gordon added.

Casey Stengel Plans New Driving Range

GLENDALE (AP)—Casey Stengel, former manager of the New York Yankees, is going into the golf driving range business.

He has joined with golf professional Bud Holscher and a group of businessmen in building a range on a 10-acre site near the NBC television studios in nearby Burbank.

Silva Fires 68 To Take Golf Honors

Marin Pro Has Low Individual Score In Meet

LeRoy Silva, Meadow Club professional at Fairfax, fired a 68 to edge out big name player Bud Ward of San Mateo in the professional sweepstakes play in yesterday's PGA-Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament at the Marin Golf and Country Club.

Ward trailed the Marinite by but one stroke for low score honors as he turned in a 69 for the 18-hole one-day tournament played in perfect golfing weather.

John Zontek of Sacramento took third place honors with a 71. Al Maus of Los Altos had a 72, while 73s were turned in by Dave Juarez of Stockton and Gary Loustalot of Sacramento. Gary Canavan, Steve Menchinelli, Bob Furier and Pat Markovich all had 74s.

In the pro-am best ball foursome competition, top honors went to pro Ray Anderson of Milpitas and amateurs Gordon Walker, Ken Beard and Ed Burge, all of Novato, with a score of 52.

George Splane, the home pro at Marin Golf and Country Club, teamed up with the same three amateurs for a 53 and second place.

A Canavan-Buono-Cowan-Helbig team tied with a Menchinelli - Flug-Osborne-McConnell foursome for third with 57s.

Forty-four teams competed.

Scandal May Cause Cage De-Emphasis

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A gambling scandal that has reached into two major North Carolina colleges may spell the doom of big time college basketball in the state.

A plan to de-emphasis is expected to be presented next Monday when the trustees of the consolidated University of North Carolina hold their regular quarterly meeting here.

North Carolina State College Coach Everett Case may have written the obituary Monday when he said:

"Basketball is meant to be a game. Down here it has turned into a war. I'm ready for a truce."

Three of Case's players, including team captain Stan Niewierowski, have been charged with bribe-taking in the point shaving scandal which earlier had reached the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The two institutions are under the control of the consolidated university's board.

Major League Attendance Is Down Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball attendance showed an over-all deficit of 17 per cent through Sunday's games despite large crowds in New York and San Francisco during the weekend.

The Yankees' four-game series with Detroit drew 82,560 customers boosting the New York gate to 141,496. The Yanks and Baltimore Orioles are the only clubs in the majors ahead of their 1960 attendance totals.

BRAIN SURGERY

Doctors Fight To Save Boxer's Life

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Doctors performed emergency brain surgery early today on Harry Campbell, member of the 1960 U. S. Olympic boxing team who suffered a brain concussion in his losing bout with Al Medrano last night.

Doctors at St. Luke's Hospital gave him a 50-50 chance to live.

Bill Young, Campbell's manager, said that regardless of how successful the operation was, Campbell's promising pro career was over.

"He's all through fighting. He's retired. I have a job for him in my detective agency and he'll continue his education at San Jose College," said Young.

Campbell, who went to the semi-finals of the Olympic Games at Rome before losing in the lightwieght division, had won five pro fights in a row before losing an upset decision to Medrano two months ago.

California Athletic Commission doctor Don Lastreto at first thought Campbell was only suffering from exhaustion.

Medrano, who had fought a cautious fight most of the way, knocked Campbell down twice in the last round—the last flurry of blows knocking him out. However, the bell ending the bout sounded before the 10 count. Campbell was carried to his corner. His seconds failed to revive Campbell and called for a doctor.

Campbell was carried on a stretcher to his dressing room and later taken by ambulance across the street to the emergency hospital.

Nieder Flops In His Ring Debut, But Won't Give Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Nieder, Olympic shotput champion and world record holder, admitted today he flopped badly in his debut as a professional boxer. But he plans to pursue a career in the ring.

The 26-year-old native of Santa Monica said he felt "pretty low" after being knocked out in the first round of a scheduled six round fight last night at the Alhambra Boxing Club.

Jim Wiley, a relatively unknown Philadelphia fighter with an 11-9-6 record, ended the bout at 2:10 of the round without Nieder landing a punch.

He knocked him down once for the mandatory eight-count. When Nieder got up he swung wildly. Wiley closed in and continued hitting away until Nieder staggered across the ring, fell near the ropes and rolled off. He missed the ledge under the ring and thus failed to get back into the ring before the 10-count.

Nieder weighed 216, Wiley 198.

SRHS Coach A Model Of Success; Marin Weightlifter Growing Up

When it comes to successful coaches, it's hard to beat Bill O'Bailey at San Rafael High School.

In his first season as Bulldog track and field coach, O'Bailey batted 1.000. That is to say his athletes swept all three divisions, A, B and C, in the Marin Athletic League finals.

Championships are nothing new to O'Bailey. At Willits, before coming to San Rafael, his thinclads won seven out of eight possible championships.

San Rafael is thinking of changing its fight song to "Won't You Come Home, Bill O'Bailey."

The modest coach sums up his success to wit: "I'm lucky. I've always been blessed with outstanding material."

CARROLL VARNER, Marin's leading weightlifter, expects to step up in class soon, now that he has swept all Far Western championships as a middleweight for the past two years.

While winning the Western Region of the Junior Nationals in Phoenix for the second straight year last Saturday, the 22-year-old Varner was advised to move up into heavier divisions by U.S. Olympic coach Bob Hoffman.

The coach told Carroll he's ready to advance and looks for him to compete as a middle-heavyweight or even in the 198-pound division. In between contests now Varner tips the Toledos at 175. Varner, incidentally, started working with weights as a slender 140-pound 16-year-old.

Winters? Frozen Food? Hm, this gets more interesting as it goes along.

CAL RIEMCKE, College of Marin coach, and J. J. Rodrigo, diving champion at Redwood High School, have joined the staff of the Los Gallinas Aquatic Club and Swim School.

The announcement was made the other day by Bob Troppmann, director of athletics at Redwood, who recently was appointed director of the Las Gallinas club three miles north of San Rafael.

MARIN'S Mrs. Winifred Berger, long-time devotee to the promotion of bowling, recently was reelected director of the Women's International Bowling Congress at the WIBC convention in Fort Wayne, Tex.

"SAN RAFAEL Chamber of Commerce Night" has been scheduled for June 13 at Candlestick Park when the Giants play the Dodgers, Chamber President Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. announces.

One hundred tickets have been reserved for chamber members and their friends. Application for tickets should be made at the chamber office before noon May 20. The price of $4.50 per person includes ticket and bus transportation.

Since the group will be introduced over the public address system at the game, Martinelli urges a good turnout.

GELATTI

S.R. Bowler Leads State Tournament

Zeno Gelatti of San Rafael, manager of Country Club Bowl, has taken the leadership in the California State Bowling Tournament's scratch all-events division, it was announced today at Fresno.

Over the weekend Gelatti' Marin's most decorated bowler, piled up 1890 pins in nine games at the Fresno tournament for a sizzling average of 210 per game.

Gelatti was at his greatest in the team event, bowling for Filippo Construction quint. He led off with a 178 and followed it with 245 and 249 for a 672 total. In doubles play his lines of 220, 192 and 227 added up to 639. Gelatti posted a 579 in singles with games of 201, 167 and 211.

The tournament still has 10 weekends to go, but Gelatti's scratch pinnage should be tough to overcome. Should his score stand for the championship, he'll receive $250 cash prize and automatic entry in the Masters Tournament that follows the State event in Fresno.

Gelatti's teammates didn't fare too well in spite of Zeno's big score. The team total was 2820 pins. Joe Filippo had 519, George Mezzera 564, Al Morris 589 and Bill Rhodes 476.

Al Dark's Big Problem: There Are Too Many Giant Sluggers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—You wouldn't know it to look at the National League standings but Alvin Dark has a problem.

How does he find room in the lineup for all his slugging San Francisco Giants?

Dark's devastators demolished the Chicago Cubs 14-1 yesterday. Felipe Alou clouted a first-inning grandslam and two singles. Orlando Cepeda knocked in five runs with two homers and a double. Jim Davenport climbed to fourth among the league's batters with three hits, boosting his average to .361.

The rest of the Giants added nine more hits, making Mike McCormick's fourth victory a breeze. He hasn't lost since opening day when he gave up a home run pitch in relief against Pittsburgh.

Which brings us back to Dark's dilemma: Does he break up that explosive lineup to get southpaw swingers Willie McCovey and Charley Hiller at right-hander Dick Drott tonight?

"Well," drawled Alvin. "I'll just have to sleep on that. Those fellows hit pretty well, didn't they?"

After disposing of Cub southpaw starter Dick Ellsworth with frightening alacrity—he gave up five runs without retiring a man—the Giants mauled two other left-handers and two right-handed pitchers. Only Bob Anderson escaped without giving up a run. Ellsworth was the loser, his third without a victory.

You can't blame Dark for wanting McCovey swinging against right-handers. Despite a .195 batting average, he's blasted six homers and knocked in 19 runs.

Hiller has been hitting better with every game. The Giants won the last six games he started at second base.

But Harvey Kuenn and Joe Amalfitano, the right-handed swingers who have been supplanting McCovey and Hiller, have been improving too.

Little Matty Alou, sent in to replace Willie Mays with the Giants ahead 13-1, socked his first major league homer in his only time at bat. Felipe's kid brother, just 5-foot-9 and 152 pounds, gave the ball a terrific ride.

"Baseball is a game that you play day by day," said Dark. "We'll take batting practice again today."

Right-hander Jack Sanford (1-3) will pitch for the Giants tonight.

PASTOR FIRES HOLE IN ONE AT NOVATO

A San Rafael minister, playing with a fellow clergyman, shot a hole in one yesterday on the 147-yard No. 13 hole at Novato's Indian Valley Golf Club.

Scoring the ace was Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church.

He was playing with a Novato minister, Rev. Ole Winter.

Rev. Braunschweiger shot his hole in one with a No. 7 iron. He has been golfing about five years and usually shoots around 90 for an 18-hole round.

Mathews' Torid Bat Gives Braves Boost

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Mathews is back doing what comes naturally, hammering home runs and giving the Milwaukee Braves that old power look once more.

Through the first 21 games of the season, Mathews, No. 6 on the all-time National League home run list, had hit just one. Now he's tagged five in four games while running second in the batting race with a .378 average and a 14-game hitting streak.

Mathews rifled a pair over the right and center field barriers last night, driving in three runs as the Braves defeated the Dodgers 7-5, handing southpaw Johnny Podres his first defeat.

That dropped the second place Dodgers two games behind the San Francisco Giants, who broke loose for a 14-1 romp over the Chicago Cubs. The only other game scheduled in the N.L., St. Louis at Pittsburgh, was rained out.

In the American League, Detroit upped its lead to three games over idle New York by beating Baltimore 10-5. Minnesota trimmed Chicago's White Sox 5-0, Cleveland battered Boston 13-2 and Kansas City defeated the Los Angeles Angels 5-3 in the only other games scheduled.

Lew Burdette 3-1 won two in a row for the first time this season—and also drove in three Braves runs with a single and his first home run of the year. It was the eighth straight success in the Coliseum for Burdette, who gave up seven hits.

Wally Moon, retaining the N.L. bat lead at .384 tripled and scored the first run for the Dodgers by stealing home with two out in the second inning. Charlie Neal hit a two-hun homer in the ninth.

Major League Attendance Is Down Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball attendance showed an over-all deficit of 17 per cent through Sunday's games despite large crowds in New York and San Francisco during the weekend.

The Yankees' four-game series with Detroit drew 82,560 customers boosting the New York gate to 141,496. The Yanks and Baltimore Orioles are the only clubs in the majors ahead of their 1960 attendance totals.

Gordon Gives Orders From The Pressbox

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Joe Gordon managed the Kansas City Athletics from the press box last night and discovered what every baseball writer has claimed for years—it's better that way.

The proof was a 5-3 remote control victory over the Los Angeles Angels and a promise from Gordon that he would be back tonight with the telephone glued to his ear for a second trial run.

The A's skipper yielded to a suggestion by Frank Lane, the Athletics' general manager, and joined the news contingent. He relayed his directions by telephone to Coach Ed Fitzgerald who, in some shadowy manner, sent them to Coach Jo Jo White in the third base box.

"I missed the close contact with my players and I don't think this is the ideal way to manage a baseball club but it has some value," said Gordon. "You can see things you can't see from the low level of the dugout. I noticed right away that one of my outfielders was playing too close for those Los Angeles power hitters. One of our better batters was standing too close to the plate. I couldn't have seen either of these flaws from the dugout. Actually, Frank and I tried this to see if it wouldn't be valuable to have someone up here all the time—if not the manager, one of our coaches."

And, said Gordon, he found out that rookie shortstop Dick Howser is covering even more ground than he thought.

"I knew he was good but from this vantage point some 30 feet above the playing field, I could see how good he really is," Gordon added.

Marin Pro Has Low Individual Score In Meet

LeRoy Silva, Meadow Club professional at Fairfax, fired a 68 to edge out big name player Bud Ward of San Mateo in the professional sweepstakes play in yesterday's PGA-Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament at the Marin Golf and Country Club.

Ward trailed the Marinite by but one stroke for low score honors as he turned in a 69 for the 18-hole one-day tournament played in perfect golfing weather.

John Zontek of Sacramento took third place honors with a 71. Al Maus of Los Altos had a 72, while 73s were turned in by Dave Juarez of Stockton and Gary Loustalot of Sacramento. Gary Canavan, Steve Menchinelli, Bob Furier and Pat Markovich all had 74s.

In the pro-am best ball foursome competition, top honors went to pro Ray Anderson of Milpitas and amateurs Gordon Walker, Ken Beard and Ed Burge, all of Novato, with a score of 52.

George Splane, the home pro at Marin Golf and Country Club, teamed up with the same three amateurs for a 53 and second place.

A Canavan-Buono-Cowan-Helbig team tied with a Menchinelli - Flug-Osborne-McConnell foursome for third with 57s.

Forty-four teams competed.

Scandal May Cause Cage De-Emphasis

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A gambling scandal that has reached into two major North Carolina colleges may spell the doom of big time college basketball in the state.

A plan to de-emphasis is expected to be presented next Monday when the trustees of the consolidated University of North Carolina hold their regular quarterly meeting here.

North Carolina State College Coach Everett Case may have written the obituary Monday when he said:

"Basketball is meant to be a game. Down here it has turned into a war. I'm ready for a truce."

Three of Case's players, including team captain Stan Niewierowski, have been charged with bribe-taking in the point shaving scandal which earlier had reached the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The two institutions are under the control of the consolidated university's board.

Over the weekend Gelatti' Marin's most decorated bowler, piled up 1890 pins in nine games at the Fresno tournament for a sizzling average of 210 per game.

Gelatti was at his greatest in the team event, bowling for Filippo Construction quint. He led off with a 178 and followed it with 245 and 249 for a 672 total. In doubles play his lines of 220, 192 and 227 added up to 639. Gelatti posted a 579 in singles with games of 201, 167 and 211.

The tournament still has 10 weekends to go, but Gelatti's scratch pinnage should be tough to overcome. Should his score stand for the championship, he'll receive $250 cash prize and automatic entry in the Masters Tournament that follows the State event in Fresno.

Gelatti's teammates didn't fare too well in spite of Zeno's big score. The team total was 2820 pins. Joe Filippo had 519, George Mezzera 564, Al Morris 589 and Bill Rhodes 476.

Wildlife Federation Takes Stands On Hunting Issues

An emergency meeting of the California Wildlife Federation was held at the Towne and Country Motel, Fresno, on May 6 and 7. The primary reason for this meeting was to re-examine the sportsman's position in the light of the recent determinations of the Fish and Game Commission relating to seasons and bag limits for hunting in 1961. A number of legislative matters of concern were also discussed.

Dr. Gail Adams attended the meeting and represented the Marin Rod & Gun Club and the Redwood Empire Sportsmen's Council.

The following summarizes the actions taken in the two-day meeting:

Deer. The CWF reaffirmed its support of the recommendations of the Department of Fish and Game regarding the early and late seasons as well as the bag limits for the taking of deer in 1961. The Federation took specific action in opposition to that determination of the Fish and Game Commission which would create a closure to all hunting in two areas of northern California, one of about 40 square miles in Siskiyou County, known as the Three Sisters Area, and the other of approximately 160 square miles in Modoc County, known as Telephone Flats. Further, the Commission determination of an early closure (October 15) for District 1¾ was opposed as being not in the interest of game management and furthermore could at best accomplish only the opposite of the ends desired.

Discussion of the desirability of holding public hearings at the County seat of affected counties on proposed deer hunts disclosed not only uniform support but also recognition that section 435 of the Fish and Game code requires such a procedure. The desirability feature includes a Public report of the findings of the unit game manager in the area concerned.

Notice was taken of statements by others that the taking of deer by bow and arrow is less humane than by rifle. This charge was declared to be invalid and furthermore pointed out that those making these allegations would prefer to stop all deer hunting. This would be an act of so-called preservation and not conservation and as such is opposed to the policies of this Federation. The meeting supported the determinations for 1961 regarding the archery seasons and bag limits for deer.

Pheasants. The Federation advocated a 16 day pheasant rather than the proposed 10-day season, and to open on November 18. Support was also given to the alteration of shooting times statewide to be 8 a.m. to sunset, and this as a safety measure.

Quail. The Federation strongly advocated the proposal of the Department for a uniform quail season extending from November 4 through January 1. They further suggest that, if it becomes necessary to partition the state, Kern County should be included with the Southern California season.

Sierra or Ruffed Grouse. Support DFG 30 September-8 October season recommendation.

Tree Squirrel. Concur with DFG recommendation for 4 November - 1 January season.

Rabbits. Concur with DFG recommendation for 1 September - 1 January, season.

Fire Arms and Bullets. No recommendations this year of restrictions on caliber or bullet energy pending the acquisition of further information.

President Edward Bruce will appear before the Commission on May 26 and 27 in behalf of the Federation and the position it has taken on the several issues. He will be supported by Directors representing nearly all of the member Councils.

Land Withdrawals. Walter Shannon, Director of the State Department of Fish and Game has indicated that he will appear at a hearing in Washington of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs regarding the withdrawal of lands from public sale. Director Shannon will support this withdrawal. The seven areas involved are known as: McCain Valley, Panoche, New Idria, Temblor, Mount Dome, Cinder Cone and Monache-Walker. The Federation also advocates these withdrawals and will make its position known to Congresswoman Gracie Pfost, who is chairman of the subcommittee on Public Lands, and also to many other Congressmen and Senators.

Federal Legislation. The Klamath-Tule Lake Wildlife Area question was discussed to update all progress and information available. It appears that legislation may soon be introduced into Congress to establish formally and guarantee the existence of this area for recreational purposes.

A statement was read from the National Wildlife Federation in support of National Recreation Areas, particularly the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore Recreation Area. It is gratifying to find that the position of the sportsman is being supported at substantially all levels up to Congress and that hunting and fishing are being continued as recreational purposes as applied to these areas.

Nature Conservancy. A request has been made by a group known as Nature Conservancy to the Bureau of Land Management for the withdrawal to preservation purposes of some 3600 of the Elder Creek watershed in Mendocina County. The Federation is asking the Bureau to hold a public hearing so that the facts pertaining to this proposed withdrawal can be made part of the public record.

Special Notice! One legislative bill is of special interest to all sportsmen. AB 1337, Unruh and others, would terminate 93 special funds which have been established over the years to guarantee specific functions or operations. No. 84, the Wildlife Restoration Fund, has provided (since 1947) $750,000 per year from horse-race betting funds for a wide variety of conservation and wildlife improvement projects throughout the whole state. We must not lose this! Write to Senator John F. McCarty, State Capitol, Sacramento, and express your opinion, now.

A resolution was passed memorializing Walt Radke of the San Francisco Examiner for the excellent series of articles on poor logging practices in California.

A resolution was passed recommending to Governor Brown that three representatives of Sportsmen's organizations be considered as appointee to the vacancy now in existence on the Marine Research Committee. These three are Fritz Mangold, Jarry Ruhlow, and Eddie Bruce.

The meeting was closed after a review of the State Legislative program of the Federation. The review discussion was led by Mr. George D. Difani, legislative advocate for the Federation.

More Help Needed In Repair Work On Fishing Pier

Any member who has recently fished on the pier is aware of the work being done by the club in connection with redecking the area from the square to the T. Your club is vitally concerned with maintaining its fishing pier in the best possible condition both from the standpoint of maximum safety and pride in the ownership of a first-rate sportsmen's facility.

The strides which have been made thus far in completely overhauling the area between the pier entrance and the Square are a testimonial to united effort, fine cooperation and the will to get the job done. But further strides can and must be made if we are to accomplish our goal with a minimum of delay. When the last board has been laid in place and the final hammer blow struck, the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be the proud owners of one of the finest fishing facilities in the country.

Unfortunately, however, progress in connection with the present operation has been less than satisfactory—and the reason is obvious. In the two weekends which have been devoted to the project an average of eight members per day have reported for the work detail. With a membership of over 2300 this pitifully small turnout is very discouraging. The necessary lumber and materials were purchased and have been delivered. All that is lacking are the hands to get the job done in short order. If a sufficiently large task force could be recruited, no individual member would be obliged to put in more than a relatively few hours in a concerted drive to accomplish the objective.

This appeal is directed to all members, and especially to those who customarily avail themselves of the pier facilities. If you are interested in gaining the greatest possible comfort and enjoyment from your fishing pier, you owe it to yourself to volunteer a few hours of service to this worthy cause. And remember — you don't have to be a technician or a skilled mechanic. If you know which end of a hammer or saw to hold, you're in.

The next work detail will be on Sunday, May 21, starting at 8:30 a.m. As usual, luncheon will be served at noon. Let's all get together on this project and put it over with a bang. Can we count on YOUR help?

Remember—every Saturday and Sunday will be work days on the Pier. Don't wait to be asked, come on out—your help will be appreciated.

Let's go!

Some Coming Events For Club Members

The next regular meeting will be held at the clubhouse, Point San Quentin at 8:00 p.m.

Chairman Roberta Sturges announced that the rummage sale will be held at 1841 Fourth Street, Friday, May 19 and Saturday 20th.

Winners of our conservation drawing were Karon Briscoe, Fairfax, Alice Reed, San Rafael, Esther Ross, San Francisco, and Dr. Dorothy Morse, Corte Madera.

Tuesdays have been selected as fishing days either at the lakes or at the pier. If you need a ride contact Emmabelle Herak.

Welcomed as a new member at our last meeting was Beverley Rider. Membership in the Auxiliary is still open to eligible ladies. If interested contact Secretary Helen Marzetta.

If you have not paid dues for 1961, you are delinquent and will lose your membership as of June 30th.

Refreshments, entertainment and initiation.

New Project For Anglers Completed

A new Northern California ocean angling access project constructed with funds allocated by the Wildlife Conservation Board is now ready for use by the public.

Known as the South Kibesillah Gulch Coastal Access, it is located north of Fort Bragg in Mendocino County. There are nearly five acres of land involved, with a parking area, trail to the beach and sanitary facilities.

Total cost of the project was $13,000. The county will operate and maintain the facility.

The Wildlife Conservation Board allocates funds for fish and game capital outlay projects from a $750,000 a year fund derived from the state's share of horse race betting monies. The board is composed of the directors of the Departments of Fish and Game and Finance and the president of the Fish and Game Commission, with a six-member legislative advisory board.

It's Get-Together Time At Chicken Barbecue

Folks, it's that time of the year again, when the Marin Rod and Gun Club family will be getting together.

Sunday, July 23, 1961, is a Red Letter Day—the day that the Marin Rod and Gun Club ANNUAL CHICKEN BARBECUE will be held at the club grounds at Point San Quentin —draw a red circle around that date on your calendar and you'll be sure to be there.

Last year some members were disappointed because they failed to make their reservations early. This year as last, the barbecue is limited to 1200, because the club facilities will not accommodate a greater number. To insure that you'll be there with the gang, enjoying the eats and games, get your tickets now.

Tickets may be obtained from Marin sports shops, Western Sport Shop, Lincoln Bait Shop, Redwood Sport Shop; West End Market, Independent-Journal, San Rafael; Jim's Sport Shop, Novato; Free Minetti Sporting Goods, San Francisco or club secretary, Paul Ware, Sr., 14 Taylor Street, San Rafael. The price of the tickets is the same as last year, $1.50. Where can you get so much for so little and have fun too!

Bring the family—there'll be games for the young and the middle-aged (middle-aged 20 to 80).

Don't procratinate—the date is Sunday, July 23, 1961, and limited to 1200, make your reservations now by getting your tickets early.

TROUT FISHING AS IT'S DONE BY EUROPEANS

Those attending the meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club on Friday, May 19, 1961 at the clubhouse, Point San Quentin, will be shown a pictorial travelogue of European trout fishing by Bob Behnke. Bob, accompanied by Dr. Paul R. Needham, toured the continent last summer in quest of trout, even going into Russia to visit streams and research stations. What they did and what they saw will be told at the meeting. Plan now to attend and bring a friend.

High Winds Put Halt To Fishing

High winds the past weekend have practically put a stop to fishing except for trolling in the Racoon Straits area.

Salmon fishing outside the gate when the ocean is smooth has been excellent and many fine limits have been taken.

Striped bass fishing in San Pablo bay from Racoon Straits to Hamilton Field has been good, but the weather has prevented boat fishermen to go out in many instances and although limits were taken trolling from the Straits to California City.

Trout fishing in Lagunitas, Bon Tempe and Phoenix has been good.

The Department of Fish and Game have made several plants of catchable-sized trout in these lakes. A fishing permit is necessary and can be purchased at the Marin Municipal Water District office or Marin sport shops.

Rodeo Lagoon, Fort Cronkhite military reservation, near the Golden Gate on the Marin side is open to trout fishing and permits can be obtained from the Provost Marshal at the San Francisco Presidio. A state fishing license is also required to fish for trout.

Mellen Recognized For Leadership In Pier Repairs

ERNIE MELLEN
Director of month

Our current major project, involving the resumption of necessary pier repairs, is now under way but proceeding rather slowly due to the lack of sufficient help. To those relatively few stalwart members who can usually be counted upon to lend a hand, our sincere thanks go out for their very welcome assistance in behalf of the organization. Chief among them is pier chairman Ernie Mellen whose able leadership and dedicated efforts in connection with this important program have earned for him award of Director of the Month.

The task of pier chairman is, to say the least, a difficult one and the problems which continually arise are as demanding of solution as they are varied in scope. Yet with characteristic cheerfulness Ernie has assumed these responsibilities in a commendable spirit of cooperation toward the general welfare of the club and its members.

If you are one of the many to whom the announcement of Ernie's award will come as pleasurable news, you can show your appreciation by offering a few hours of your time in helping him with his pier repair program. He can be reached at GL 3-9231. In any event, the next time you're on the pier and you see a crew of workers in action, the one who is up to his neck in hammers, saws, crowbars, wrenches, planks and railroads will undoubtedly be Ernie Mellen, your Director of the Month.

56 ACRES IN MARIN

Directors Opposed To Bill Authorizing Tidelands Sale

S.B. 1283, a bill to permit the State Lands Commission to sell approximately 56 acres of Marin County tidelands located near the mouth of the Petaluma River has been opposed by the directors of the Marin Rod and Gun Club. It is felt that this land in the midst of a hunting and fishing area should be reserved for public use.

Other bills opposed by the club are A.B. 1313 and A.B. 1887. AB 1313 extends the commercial season on the taking of sardines for an additional two months during the next two years. With the sardine population already down, this extension of the season can only bring the sardine nearer to extinction.

A.B. 1887 puts the Wildlife Restoration Fund of $750,000 into the General Fund where it will be lost. Getting funds for boat ramps access rights and other conservation projects from the General Fund will be an impossibility in the future due to the red tape involved.

All club members and their friends are urged to ask Assemblyman Bagley and Senator McCarthy to oppose these bills.

Kent Lake Stocked With Salmon Fingerling

Kent Lake in Marin County has been stocked with 100,000 Kokanee fingerling salmon.

If the plant surives and the fish grow to maturity, good fishing should prevail after the first and second year.

Mature kokanees reach a length of 10 to 16 inches in most California waters, and weigh one to two pounds. In appearance, they are very similar to trout; the only sure way to tell the difference is to count the number of rays or rib-like supports in the anal fin. Kokanees have at least 13; trout never more than 12.

To those relatively few stalwart members who can usually be counted upon to lend a hand, our sincere thanks go out for their very welcome assistance in behalf of the organization. Chief among them is pier chairman Ernie Mellen whose able leadership and dedicated efforts in connection with this important program have earned for him award of Director of the Month.

The task of pier chairman is, to say the least, a difficult one and the problems which continually arise are as demanding of solution as they are varied in scope. Yet with characteristic cheerfulness Ernie has assumed these responsibilities in a commendable spirit of cooperation toward the general welfare of the club and its members.

If you are one of the many to whom the announcement of Ernie's award will come as pleasurable news, you can show your appreciation by offering a few hours of your time in helping him with his pier repair program. He can be reached at GL 3-9201. In any event, the next time you're on the pier and you see a crew of workers in action, the one who is up to his neck in hammers, saws, crowbars, wrenches, planks and railroads will undoubtedly be Ernie Mellen, your Director of the Month.

56 ACRES IN MARIN

Directors Opposed To Bill Authorizing Tidelands Sale

S.B. 1283, a bill to permit the State Lands Commission to sell approximately 56 acres of Marin County tidelands located near the mouth of the Petaluma River has been opposed by the directors of the Marin Rod and Gun Club. It is felt that this land in the midst of a hunting and fishing area should be reserved for public use.

Other bills opposed by the club are A.B. 1313 and A.B. 1887. AB 1313 extends the commercial season on the taking of sardines for an additional two months during the next two years. With the sardine population already down, this extension of the season can only bring the sardine nearer to extinction.

A.B. 1887 puts the Wildlife Restoration Fund of $750,000 into the General Fund where it will be lost. Getting funds for boat ramps access rights and other conservation projects from the General Fund will be an impossibility in the future due to the red tape involved.

All club members and their friends are urged to ask Assemblyman Bagley and Senator McCarthy to oppose these bills.

Kent Lake Stocked With Salmon Fingerling

Kent Lake in Marin County has been stocked with 100,000 Kokanee fingerling salmon.

If the plant surives and the fish grow to maturity, good fishing should prevail after the first and second year.

Mature kokanees reach a length of 10 to 16 inches in most California waters, and weigh one to two pounds. In appearance, they are very similar to trout; the only sure way to tell the difference is to count the number of rays or rib-like supports in the anal fin. Kokanees have at least 13; trout never more than 12.

New Project For Anglers Completed

A new Northern California ocean angling access project constructed with funds allocated by the Wildlife Conservation Board is now ready for use by the public.

Known as the South Kibesillah Gulch Coastal Access, it is located north of Fort Bragg in Mendocino County. There are nearly five acres of land involved, with a parking area, trail to the beach and sanitary facilities.

Total cost of the project was $13,000. The county will operate and maintain the facility.

The Wildlife Conservation Board allocates funds for fish and game capital outlay projects from a $750,000 a year fund derived from the state's share of horse race betting monies. The board is composed of the directors of the Departments of Fish and Game and Finance and the president of the Fish and Game Commission, with a six-member legislative advisory board.

Senate Passes 'Tough' Narcotics Addicts Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill for rehabilitation of narcotics addicts, listed by its author as the "toughest and most humane bill in the legislature," today went to the Assembly with Senate approval.

The measure, by Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville), passed the Senate yesterday on a 30-2 vote. There was no debate.

It had the full backing of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and is part of the administration's anti-narcotics program.

"The revolving door policy of permitting addicts to come right back to their communities has not been effective," Regan told the Senate.

The measure provides for a narcotics treatment and rehabilitation center. Federal facilities near San Diego and Corona are being considered.

The bill provides that addicts would be committed to the hospital for from six months to five years if they have committed misdemeanor criminal offenses and up to 10 years on felonies.

The principal California counties which produce early apples are Sonoma, Napa, Mendocino, Santa Cruz and Tulare.

STATE WORKER PAY MEASURE IS DUE TEST

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to give California's 120,000 state employees a 5 per cent pay increase next Jan. 1 had the approval of an Assembly committee today.

But the bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg (D-Sacramento), which would add 16.1 million dollars to the 1961-62 budget, still had to get by the budget-minded Ways and Means Committee.

The Civil Service and State Personnel Committee approved the bill yesterday.

Nevada Chief For Juvenile Measure

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada spoke out bluntly against the Western Governors' Conference today for holding back support for President John F. Kennedy's juvenile delinquency program.

"We're here to make decisions," Sawyer, a Democrat, said.

"We're not elected not to make decisions."

His statement came after the conference split on a resolution putting the Western governors behind the proposed 10 million dollars a year federal program to fight teen-age crime.

Two Republican governors, George D. Clyde of Utah and Paul Fannin of Arizona, objected when Sawyer offered the resolution at Monday's opening session. Sawyer then withdrew it.

Other governors asked for time to look over the Kennedy administration legislation.

The governors at the conference include six Republicans and five Democrats. A sixth Democrat, California's Edmund G. Brown, was due in later today.

Sawyer, in an interview, said he's "tired of watered-down resolutions" at the governors' annual meetings.

Mrs. Earl Barnt gave the devotions which tied in with the theme of Dr. Come's speech.

Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Walkmeister and her husband will be leaving in June for a three week trip to Europe.

Farewell Party Given For Carl Granger

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Granger Jr. were guests of honor at a party given Friday night by Mrs. Lucile Dandelet, at her home in San Anselmo.

The Grangers are returning this week to the East Coast where the doctor has accepted a position practicing and teaching physical medicine at Yale University Medical Center. He has been assistant chief of physical medicine service at Letterman General Hospital for three years, during which time he, his wife Helen and children Glenn, 7, and Marilyn, 3, have made their home at 735 Pine Lane, San Rafael.

Other guests enjoying the evening together were: Dr. and Mrs. John R. Bodo of Greenbrae Dr. and Mrs. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Heller of San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pitts of Mill Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Rayford of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross of Corte Madera, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Yates of San Anselmo.

A co-hostess with Mrs. Dandelet was her mother, Mrs. Edward Tiffany Van Deusen of Julian, Calif., who flew up to attend the World Affairs Council's Conference on Latin America at Asilomar and will visit a few days in Marin before returning to Southern California.

Trophy Dance Finale To Cotillion Season

The recent eighth grade Spring Trophy Dance at the Masonic Hall in San Rafael terminated the season's activities for the Junior Cotillion of Marin.

Music was provided by Hugo Rinaldi. Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Richard Albert, Mr. and Mrs. Dean A. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. R. Scott Hunsinger and Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Kruger.

During the past season eighth grade students had conscientiously learned and perfected waltz steps in anticipation of the Waltz Contest which is held annually at their Trophy Dance. Mrs. Bari Frohlich, director of the Junior Cotillion of Marin, invited a panel of four dance experts from the Oakland Branch of the National Smitth Dancers to adjudicate the contest. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dashiell and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner.

A large group of eighth grade members participated in the Waltz Contest. Excitement ran high as the judges carefully chose 12 couples and then judged their dancing using the official point system of the National Smooth Dancers. Winners of the contest were Marlene Keelen and Greg Norgaard.

A program was presented after the contest and the young audience enthusiastically applauded the smoothly sophisticated rhumba danced by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner. A youthful couple from the East Bay, Regina Menard and Larry Wagner, were dramatic in an exhibition waltz. Last year's trophy winner, Gene Babo and his partner, Teri Frohlich, enchanted the audience with a romantic waltz.

Members of the younger Junior Cotillion groups compete for trophies in their individual classes. A trophy is presented to one member of each group at the end of their season. The award is made to the student who has accumulated the greatest number of points during the season. The points are earned for courtesy as well as dancing.

Fifth grade winners in the Kentfield groups were Kristine Kerns and Stephen Hoy. Winners in the sixth grade groups were Jackie Bridges, Susan Clarke and Geoffrey Schlittgen. The Novato trophy was awarded to Frank Novak and Gary Steadman won the Mill Valley Award. Michael Sharp was awarded the trophy for the group at the Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Winners from the seventh grade groups in Kentfield and San Rafael were Linda Ritter, Bob Friend and Tom Quilici.

The students look forward to the resumption of their Junior Cotillion classes in mid-September when again they will try to earn trophy points.

Musical Program, Speaker At Presbyterian Society Meet

An outstanding musical program was presented by two artists, new to Marin audiences, by Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald, music chairman, at the recent meeting of the Women's Society of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael. These were Mrs. D. (Margery) Tete, contralto, of San Francisco and her accompanist, Mrs. A. C. Vonk of Mill Valley. Mrs. Tete's numbers included an aria from Tschaikowsky, sung in Russian, eight German Leider songs from the Brahms' collection, an aria from Mozart and a ballad, "All The Things We Are." Mrs. Tete is a member of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and the Berkeley Chorus. Formerly she made her home in Washington, D. C. and in Montana. Mrs. Vonk recently moved to Mill Valley from New Jersey.

The speaker, Dr. Arnold Come, professor of Systematic Theology at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, is a native of Lansing, Mich., and was educated at Princeton and in Basil, Switzerland. He is the author of "The Human Spirit," "The Holy Spirit" and "Agents For Reconciliation." He discussed the role of the church laity in society. Dr. Come recently attended a conference sponsored by the department of laity in Europe.

The laity feels the weight of the community, Dr. Come said, explaining that the Christian act is quiet and personal involving human relations and the society of men. The Christian act is a social act rather than a lone, individual act.

The Christian has a knowledge of man deep and profound. The ideal understanding of man has come from the gospel of Jesus Christ. The Christian has a power, persistence and purity in the truth of God. Mrs. Warren Tracy presented Dr. Come.

Mrs. Earl Barnt gave the devotions which tied in with the theme of Dr. Come's speech.

Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Walkmeister and her husband will be leaving in June for a three week trip to Europe.

Goodbyes were said to Mrs. Fedora Ross, one of the most talented and active members of the society, who will be leaving soon for the new Presbyterian home near Palo Alto, known as "The Sequoias."

Luncheon was served at tables bright with many baskets of mixed flowers while bowls of roses were used about Canoles Hall and at the speakers' table. Mrs. Wesley Baker gave the devotions. Luncheon was served by Mrs. John W. Carothers and Mrs. H. N. Mangels and their circle.

The June meeting has been designated as "Play Day."

Mrs. Roseanne Renick, who recently became adviser of the Junior High Fellowship Group, announced the Juniors are to be guests when the Church Council meeting is held Tuesday evening, May 23, at 7:45 o'clock in the San Rafael Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. A. E. Straub will represent the United Presbyterian Women at the July meeting of the National United Presbyterian Women in Purdue, Ind.

Girl Scout Troops Carry Out Promise

"To help other people," a part of the Girl Scout Promise, has been the thought behind many recent service projects by Girl Scout troops.

Novato Girl Scouts made their monthly visit to the 65 girls in Haven Cottage at Sonoma State Hospital. While only the older Scouts may visit, all Novato Brownie and Intermediate Scouts help by collecting magazines, catalogs, puzzles and color books, and making small gifts which the older troops distribute. Many Brownies are looking forward to the time when they will be old enough to be volunteers at the hospital.

A recent visit found members of Senior Troop 345 and Intermediate Troops 326 and 350 entertaining the little patients, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Coulter Jr., Mrs. Archie Worden and Mrs. Harry Farmer.

Another group of Scouts to "adopt" children at Sonoma State Hospital is San Anselmo Troop 104. The Intermediate Scouts send small gifts and cards to remember holidays and birthdays, as well as toys and outgrown clothing. Their leader is Mrs. C. J. Kealey.

A long term service project undertaken by Brownie Troop 103 has been the weeding and care of the planters at the Larkspur City Hall. Under the supervision of their leaders, Mesdames Vasileos Kapousouz, William Costello, Louis Cimina and E. M. Thompson, the second graders also provided willow trees for the city hall grounds.

The 36 members of Marinwood Troop 289 are making large fabric and paper mosaic placques of nursery rhyme characters. The fifth graders from Mary Silviera and Lucas Valley Schools will present the finished placques to the chilren's ward at Imola Hospital. Leaders of the troop are Mesdames Albert Adatto, Kenneth Hunt, Fred Horton, Oscar Deen, John Hinman, Larry Loverman and Charles Sutton.

Tray favors for Ross Hospital were made by Intermediate Troop 154. The Corte Madera fifth graders made spring flower bouquets in miniature "pots" as their part in the continuous Corte Madera-Larkspur neighborhood service project. Their leaders are Mesdames Ralph Heggelund, A. E. Lubamersky, Vernon Lang and Robert Brinton.

Medical Assistants Will Meet Thursday

The Marin Assn. of Medical Assistants will be host to all medical assistants in Marin County when they meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Margaret Powers, California physicians service representative, will present new information on the many CPS services.

Louise Wilson, membership chairman, has arranged the program, assisted by Ella Gaussoin, president; Kathleen Harlan, Ida Lampson, Augusta Cunningham, Edith Sacrickson and Nora Hawkins.

'Return To Paradise' Dance Party Theme

"Return to Paradise" will be the theme of the monthly Hardly Able Folk Dance Club party on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Almonte Hall in Mill Valley. The dance program will consist of European folk dances, but the decorations and refreshments will be reminiscent of Tahiti.

Hosts for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kane and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson D'Alvy. Mr. Kane, who flew to Tahiti last summer on a water color collection assignment, will exhibit a collection of these paintings at the dance. All folk dancers are invited to attend.

Dr. Allen Conroy Is Elected Square Dance Assn. President

At a recent meeting of the Marin County Square Dance Assn., club representatives elected new officers for the season.

Dr. Allen Conroy of Greenbrae was elected president; Paul Vincilione of Novato, vice president, and Fred Judson of Strawberry as treasurer. Leonore Freitas is secretary.

One new club was voted into full membership—the Tumbleweeds of San Anselmo. Plans were tentatively set for participation by square dancers in the Marin Art and Garden Show. Paul Vincilione will coordinate.

Also discussed was the Joe Lewis dance, to be held on Wednesday, Aug. 2. Dan Allen has completed tentative arrangements. The date for the Association's Annual Twilight Dance at the Larkspur Rosebowl was announced as Sunday, Sept. 17, 3 to 6 p.m. The Cornhuskers Club will sponsor the final Jamboree for new dancers, on Saturday, June 17, at Isabel Cook School. Gordon Collins of Mill Valley, the club caller, will officiate.

The next meeting of the Association will be at the Dan Allen home in Larkspur, on June 12.

San Rafael Dragging Feet On Foreign Student Homes

This school year Marin County is host to nine foreign students in its public high schools. San Rafael, Tamalpais, Drake and Redwood each have two; Novato has one.

These students live in local homes, homes which provide a second family for the overseas boys and girls.

The foreign-exchange program has been proving itself to be one of the best methods of letting others learn about us. They go home to their country with a year's experience as their teacher. We benefit also because we send our students to these countries in exchange.

Next year, it is hoped that at least the same number of students will be attending our schools. It looks possible that there may be even more in some of the high school districts.

For example, Drake High already has had offers of four homes for students next year, Tamalpais has had three offers and Redwood also has had three.

Novato, with prospects of only one student again next year, has a choice of three offered homes in which to house him or her.

Only San Rafael district residents appear to be dragging their feet. Although San Rafael already has enough money on hand to bring in two more students next year, it can't find families willing to accept them.

Up to this point there has been only one possible home offered for an exchange student in San Rafael High. This application has been sent to the New York headquarters of the American Field Service, which handles the arrangements. It has not as yet been approved.

Whether it has been approved or not, the school is still short of homes for the students.

This doesn't seem right. Certainly in the San Rafael area there are homes with a high school child which would be willing to take a foreign student. We prefer to believe that many families either haven't heard of the need or haven't considered that they might fill it.

There is ample information easily available at the school for any family curious about the possibility. In addition, there are now a number of families in the county who have had such students in their homes; they are happy to report on their experiences, if you are interested.

We hope many of you are.

DUST IN OUTER SPACE

Travellers bound for outer space have an additional hurdle to conquer in their already difficult venture. It involves a newly discovered halo of dust that rings the earth at an altitude of 100 miles.

The concentration of space dust has turned out to be much thicker than had previously been thought. Though it is not expected to be a severe physical hazard, it may prove to be psychologically disturbing.

Nobody knows just yet why the dust encircles the earth in such a heavy concentration, but it is known that it originally came from the material of comets.

New joys of discovery and new problems will attend man's launching out into the secrets of outer space. Such efforts are part of the Lord's command to subdue the whole of creation. One of their results is to make us all more respectful of Him Who made the sun, moon and stars.

"Praise ye the Lord from the heavens: praise ye Him in the high places."

Let our advances in science and achievement, O Holy Spirit, always be the occasion for greater love of You.

One Thing Wrong With Circus —Animals Always Have To Eat

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody likes to watch an elephant eat.

Everybody, that is, except Rudy Bundy. As treasurer of the Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey Circus, he'd like to see some elephants go on a voluntary diet—the ones he buys hay for.

"We have 20 elephants and they eat 30 bales of hay a day—plus all the free peanuts they can mooch. They eat all the time," he said.

"Elephants even eat at night while they're standing up sound asleep. They never quit eating."

The treasurer of "The Greatest Show on Earth" has problems strikingly different from the financial officers of most business corporations.

Finding 30 bales of hay a day on the road for the elephants is easy, Bundy said, compared to the task of buying 550 pounds of horse meat daily for the lions and tigers.

"That is getting harder every year," he remarked. "Sometimes we have to feed them beef. But that's more expensive—and besides, the big cats don't like it as well. They prefer horse meat."

Bundy said getting out the payroll for circus people was simple compared to meeting the varied menu demands of the circus animals.

In addition to the elephants, lions and tigers, the circus carries 35 horses, 30 dogs, 2 chimpanzees, 3 gorillas, 3 camels, 3 llamas, 4 bears, 15 cats and 12 white rats, 2 zebras, a fox, a hippopotamus and a goose.

"THE BIG PROBLEM is that we've never been able to train the animals to stop eating when we're not showing," Bundy said. "But at that the animals are less of a worry than the people. They aren't as temperamental."

Bunday, a cheerful, blue-eyed man of 54, is a close friend of circus president John Ringling North. He worked his way up to his present post after more than 30 years as a clarinet player and touring band leader. He played at the old Palace Theater here and says he feels he did as much as anybody to kill vaudeville.

"THE ONLY financial background I had was a commercial course I took in high school," he said. "The rest of it I had to learn on the job."

At one time there were 130 circuses in America. Now there are only a dozen of any real size.

Christian Life Curbs Divorce

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In connection with your story today (May 10) that the number of divorces in Marin County in 1959 was nearly half the number of marriages, would it not be well to cite the very practical value of Christian faith as an almost indispensable foundation for an enduring marriage?

Some years ago a considerable survey discovered that, at that time at least, only one in 100 to 150 marriages came to heartbreak when both parties were sincerely and actively involved in a church relationship.

If anything like this rate of success in the marriages of people of real Christian faith still prevails, it would seem that at least very few of the 278 divorces of 1959 in this county involved couples in which both cherished Christian faith. And that a marriage of those who do not have substantial spiritual resources is a very unpromising adventure.

Furthermore, children involved in broken homes are also at a considerable emotional disadvantage which often proves related to youthful delinquencies, and even to psychological stresses that upset normal living in adult years.

Marriage and family responsibilities demand spiritual resources. In selecting our life partners we long for a successful home life and dependable emotional-spiritual foundations for our children.

Earnest religious resources may well be urged as a substantial part of an adequate preparation for successful marriage.

Keep San Anselmo Attractive

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

What a shame that the shopping district of the beautiful town of San Anselmo is in danger of becoming stereotyped and soon might look like just any other run-of-the-mill, undistinctive street, devoid of atmosphere and devoted only to commercialism.

This is what would happen if the store owners on the east side of San Anselmo Avenue should go ahead with the plan of building over the creek and cutting down all the trees.

What an opportunity there is here for all the stores to build a sort of Paseo like the attractive shopping patios in Mill Valley or Santa Barbara, or the Boardwalk in Tiburon. Restaurants and soda fountains could serve refreshments under the handsome trees that line the creek, if a boardwalk, instead of solid buildings, were built over the stream.

All stores could still have extensions plus extra show windows on the back, or patio side of their present buildings, in addition to an ample, off street parking area where the bus station now stands.

This could surely be planned by intelligent and imaginative engineers and architects and would keep downtown San Anselmo "far more attractive and practical" to borrow a phrase from Harry Craft's column in the May 8 Independent-Journal, than it is even now, and certainly than it would be if the graceful old trees that give San Anselmo that individual touch were destroyed to make room for an extra street, a costly project at best.

With such a unique setting for the town's modern, tasteful shops people would not need to go running off to Carmel or Santa Barbara or Sonoma in search of artistic atmosphere, or to other shopping centers for plenty of parking space. We'd have it all—right here in San Anselmo.

Mustn't Forget Mountain Play

EDITOR,

Your editorial on "Robin Hood," this year's Mountain Play, rang a responsive note in our hearts, and I'm sure in the hearts of many Marinites.

Since the Mountain Play has been around for such a long time, we are apt to take it for granted. Thank you for reminding us that Marin County is unique in still another way, by having this family play festival at our own "mountain top."

I was especially interested to see that the advance tickets will benefit another Marin County tradition that is close to us, the National Foundation of the new March of Dimes.

Crisis In NATO Is Matter Of Strategy, Command Not Disunity

WASHINGTON — If, as is being said, there is a crisis in NATO, the issue is not the Atlantic Alliance itself, or any movement within NATO to surrender Berlin, and Germany, and Europe. The basic issue in NATO are strategy and command.

Can the European members continue to rely for their defense upon the American nuclear deterrent under the command of the American President and an American general?

This question can be explored but it cannot be settled by the NATO foreign ministers at Oslo. Unless I am much mistaken, it will be the central subject of the serious discussions when President Kennedy visits President de Gaulle.

THESE DISCUSSIONS will not be easy, and it would be a great pity if the administration built up any public expectation, which would almost certainly be false, that there are going to be settlements at Paris.

The best that anyone has a right to hope for is that the two Presidents will reach a preliminary understanding of each other, and can therefore lay the foundations for those changes in the strategy and structure of NATO which are necessary.

If I understand the problem after a number of careful talks in Paris, it is the consequence of the change in the balance of power since the Soviet Union achieved nuclear parity. The NATO strategical doctrine antedates this historic change.

THE NATO military establishment, which was founded under Gen. Eisenhower and is now commanded by Gen. Norstad, has been regarded as the "shield." It was to hold the Red Army at bay while the United States wielded the decisive weapon, which was then our monopoly, the "sword" which is the nuclear strategic air force.

This strategic conception has been radically undermined by the Soviet nuclear missile forces. The most authoritative European view is that since the Soviet Union is now capable of inflicting prohibitive damage on the United States, and absolute damage on the small European countries, the automatic collective defense, which NATO presupposes, cannot be counted upon.

THE FRENCH view, which is merely more articulate than that of the other Europeans, is that if nuclear war begins, no nation will commit suicide if it can escape it. An American President cannot be expected to sacrifice Chicago for Lyons or New York for Paris.

This is the root of the French insistence upon having their own deterrents.

THIS IS THE CRUX of the problem. But, of course, it is not the whole problem. There is the exceedingly important French insistence that in great affairs throughout the world—the Formosa Strait, Indo-China, Iran, the Congo, Cuba—policy should be made by French - British - American agreement, and not unilaterally by the United States.

Though I tried hard to understand just what this means, I am not sure I do. I am not sure how much of it is an appeal for consultation, which is so necessary and so desirable, and how much of it conceals the principle of unanimous agreement, that is to say, the veto.

School Reorganization Committee Operates In Fog With Few Facts

The Augmented Marin County Committee On School District Organization has a long name and a huge responsibility.

This is the committee which will make a recommendation on how the Novato Unified School District and San Jose School District will be joined. There seems little doubt that they should be. The difference of opinion is over the method, whether unification, annexation or boundary change joining only part of the San Jose district to the Novato district. Voters will have the final say.

THE COMMITTEE has been operating in a fog. The fog has grown thicker with each meeting because of lack of facts.

Facts about bonds and leveling of them. Facts about taxes and tax rates, assessed valuation, administrative dislocation and costs in the early years of merger. Facts about extra funds available from the state for unification, student population growth and resulting construction costs and switches due to merger, educational advantages or disadvantages.

The "facts — meaning mathematical conclusions, estimates, surveys, reports of any similar situations in similar districts, and educated opinions—have been given at separate and hard-to-relate times, are garbled, verbal or never presented.

IN THREE STUDY meetings held by the committee, not once have the educational advantages or disadvantages of merger been considered. Very likely, the advantages are so evident that no one questions them.

Admittedly this could degenerate into a dog fight between the so-called "life adjustment" leaning of the San Jose district and the supposed "more conservative" bent of Novato. But with a strong county committee, it would not have to happen, while considering the effect, if any, on the classroom level of unification, annexation or boundary change.

There have been too few facts offered. Fact finding takes time.

There has been no time.

THE AUGMENTED Marin County Committee On School District Organization has been under an emotional and vocal pressure from sincere residents who want unification, annexation or boundary change. They want it right now, if not today, then tomorrow.

The committee has succumbed to this pressure, including the two school districts involved.

The majority of the committee members and school board members, have by their remarks indicated unfamiliarity with the legal alternatives and procedures of unification, annexation, boundary change. The laws are there—it takes time to learn.

Committee members have little time for actual study of the three alternatives, giving few words to annexation and none to boundary change. They have been lost in words.

MEMBERS HAVE agreed to present a written outline of the alternatives and facts for the public hearing on unification set for May 31. The outline is late in coming.

1. Before even beginning such a study, committee members and to some extent, board members, should be familiar with the many admittedly complicated legal requirements and alternatives to save time and useless words. A skeleton outline should be easily available to the public in written form.

2. Many of the tax, tax rate, financial questions, student population and growth figures, school capacity and construction plans, present bonding status and future alternative effects on finances and bonds could have been checked even before the first study session. And they should have been available to the public and committee members in written form. A few were presented this way. Too few.

WITH A WRITTEN basis, these so-called facts can be questioned, argued, changed. Time and misinterpretation would be cut.

The committee has come out with a tentative proposal for unification which still can be changed at any time.

These comments came about after sitting through the study sessions as an impersonal outsider. I cannot make up my mind on which is the best method of merger and cannot understand how the committee could come to a conclusion.

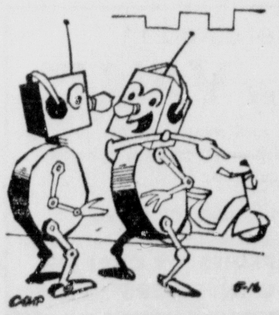
Those two Martians are back in town again! This time their attention was attracted to a snazzy white motor scooter at a Third Avenue curb. "Isn't she a honey?" enthused one. "I think I'll take her back to Mar with us." "Careful, boy," warned the other. "She may be under age."



Dr. Seuss, creator of the all-conquering "The Cat In the Hat," explains, "A kid is a guy I never write down to. He is the last possessor of a pure sense of humor, which becomes tainted as he grows older. Then he becomes an adult—and an adult is an obsolete child!"

"What floor diya want?" scowled the busy operator of an elevator in a Madison Avenue skyscraper. The sole passenger squeaked, "The eighth floor—if it isn't out of your way."

The "facts — meaning mathematical conclusions, estimates, surveys, reports of any similar situations in similar districts, and educated opinions—have been given at separate and hard-to-relate times, are garbled, verbal or never presented.

IN THREE STUDY meetings held by the committee, not once have the educational advantages or disadvantages of merger been considered. Very likely, the advantages are so evident that no one questions them.

Admittedly this could degenerate into a dog fight between the so-called "life adjustment" leaning of the San Jose district and the supposed "more conservative" bent of Novato. But with a strong county committee, it would not have to happen, while considering the effect, if any, on the classroom level of unification, annexation or boundary change.

There have been too few facts offered. Fact finding takes time.

There has been no time.

THE AUGMENTED Marin County Committee On School District Organization has been under an emotional and vocal pressure from sincere residents who want unification, annexation or boundary change. They want it right now, if not today, then tomorrow.

The committee has succumbed to this pressure, including the two school districts involved.

The majority of the committee members and school board members, have by their remarks indicated unfamiliarity with the legal alternatives and procedures of unification, annexation, boundary change. The laws are there—it takes time to learn.

Committee members have little time for actual study of the three alternatives, giving few words to annexation and none to boundary change. They have been lost in words.

MEMBERS HAVE agreed to present a written outline of the alternatives and facts for the public hearing on unification set for May 31. The outline is late in coming.

1. Before even beginning such a study, committee members and to some extent, board members, should be familiar with the many admittedly complicated legal requirements and alternatives to save time and useless words. A skeleton outline should be easily available to the public in written form.

2. Many of the tax, tax rate, financial questions, student population and growth figures, school capacity and construction plans, present bonding status and future alternative effects on finances and bonds could have been checked even before the first study session. And they should have been available to the public and committee members in written form. A few were presented this way. Too few.

WITH A WRITTEN basis, these so-called facts can be questioned, argued, changed. Time and misinterpretation would be cut.

The committee has come out with a tentative proposal for unification which still can be changed at any time.

These comments came about after sitting through the study sessions as an impersonal outsider. I cannot make up my mind on which is the best method of merger and cannot understand how the committee could come to a conclusion.

Crisis In NATO Is Matter Of Strategy, Command Not Disunity

WASHINGTON — If, as is being said, there is a crisis in NATO, the issue is not the Atlantic Alliance itself, or any movement within NATO to surrender Berlin, and Germany, and Europe. The basic issue in NATO are strategy and command.

Can the European members continue to rely for their defense upon the American nuclear deterrent under the command of the American President and an American general?

This question can be explored but it cannot be settled by the NATO foreign ministers at Oslo. Unless I am much mistaken, it will be the central subject of the serious discussions when President Kennedy visits President de Gaulle.

THESE DISCUSSIONS will not be easy, and it would be a great pity if the administration built up any public expectation, which would almost certainly be false, that there are going to be settlements at Paris.

The best that anyone has a right to hope for is that the two Presidents will reach a preliminary understanding of each other, and can therefore lay the foundations for those changes in the strategy and structure of NATO which are necessary.

If I understand the problem after a number of careful talks in Paris, it is the consequence of the change in the balance of power since the Soviet Union achieved nuclear parity. The NATO strategical doctrine antedates this historic change.

THE NATO military establishment, which was founded under Gen. Eisenhower and is now commanded by Gen. Norstad, has been regarded as the "shield." It was to hold the Red Army at bay while the United States wielded the decisive weapon, which was then our monopoly, the "sword" which is the nuclear strategic air force.

This strategic conception has been radically undermined by the Soviet nuclear missile forces. The most authoritative European view is that since the Soviet Union is now capable of inflicting prohibitive damage on the United States, and absolute damage on the small European countries, the automatic collective defense, which NATO presupposes, cannot be counted upon.

THE FRENCH view, which is merely more articulate than that of the other Europeans, is that if nuclear war begins, no nation will commit suicide if it can escape it. An American President cannot be expected to sacrifice Chicago for Lyons or New York for Paris.

This is the root of the French insistence upon having their own deterrents.

THIS IS THE CRUX of the problem. But, of course, it is not the whole problem. There is the exceedingly important French insistence that in great affairs throughout the world—the Formosa Strait, Indo-China, Iran, the Congo, Cuba—policy should be made by French - British - American agreement, and not unilaterally by the United States.

Though I tried hard to understand just what this means, I am not sure I do. I am not sure how much of it is an appeal for consultation, which is so necessary and so desirable, and how much of it conceals the principle of unanimous agreement, that is to say, the veto.

LOOKING INTO FUTURE

Tremendous City Growth Is Seen By Citizens Group

(This is the last of a series of articles on reports of Novato citizens committees helping to formulate a city master plan.)

By ELLEN BRY

The future of Novato looks bigger and bigger, citizens believe.

In a report to the city planning commission, a citizen group foresees the time when the Novato city limits will include the 75 square miles of the Novato watershed and ultimately even further annexation southward to Lucas Valley Road, north beyond the Novato Airport, and to the shores of the Petaluma River.

More immediately, the city should attempt to round out its "present misshapen boundaries," the citizens committee on annexation policy believes.

The report is one of a series of eight studies by citizen groups on what they see and recommend for Novato's future. The Novato Planning Commission is using the reports as a basis for formulation of a master plan for the city, incorporated only about a year and a half ago.

The annexation of lands to the city eventually will result in boundaries which will include the Novato sanitary district, Novato fire district and North Marin water district—and the city should "ultimately assume the administration of these districts as municipal departments so as to bring about optimum efficiency," says the annexation policy committee's report.

To encourage annexation, "pre-zoning" of outside areas should be done by the city, citizens advise. This would indicate to outside areas what they would be zoned if annexed.

Because of the tax revenue to be gained, the city, which now is primarily residential, "should seize any opportunity to annex" land set for industrial development in any master plan.

Areas annexing to the city should be charged a set schedule of fees to help the city pay for extension of services. Citizens recommended:

1. For areas near the city and in about the same stage of development as incorporated areas, only the legal fees would be required.

2. For undeveloped property, $100 an acre.

3 For developed property, .004 per square foot with a minimum of $25, or $100 an acre.

In recommending the fees, the committee said it recognized that ordinary tax revenues will not meet the cost of providing services to expanding residential areas.

"Therefore, a service standard, a comprehensive capital development and improvement program, and a supplementary revenue program, where necessary, should be established for each annexed area so that a favorable balance between service and revenue can be attained," said the report.

". . . It might be wise to consider a lower standard of service (and consequent lower costs) in low population density areas.

"High density areas require greater police, fire protection and sanitation facilities, greater road width and maintenance, more street light . . . and dictate, as a consequence, both high standard and high cost of service."

The committee went on to recommend a list of costs to be charged against residential, commercial and industrial developers for installation of services ranging from curbing to street lights, fire alarms to trees.

Signing the report were Thomas A. Dent, Novato architect, chairman; Benjamin D. Edger, Raymond M. Johnsan and Robert Mautner.

Police Say Boys Admit Burglary

Two Mill Valley boys, aged 16 and 17, were placed in Juvenile Hall Saturday by Mill Valley police after admitting they entered Pat Guagliano's Shoe Repair Shop and took $38 and three pairs of shoes.

Police said entry was made through an open transom over the front door of the shop at 386 Miller Avenue at about 1:50 a.m.

The boys admitted dividing the money, police said. The recovered $16 and the two pair of shoes.

Vic Paulsen of the Mill Valley Park Department reported to police today that $2 in change and some candy was stolen from the Boyle Park concession stand after the latch was forced off the door.

Hearing Set On 'Unfit' Water At Inverness

The Inverness Park Water Co. will be called before the State Public Utilities Commission for allegedly furnishing unfit water to residents of the Pt. Reyes area.

A hearing is set for 10 a.m. May 26 at the Lions Club in Pt. Reyes Station. The complaint was filed last February by Thomas T. Storer, a Marin County deputy district attorney, acting as a private citizen.

The Division of Sanitation of the Marin County Health Department has posted a notice that the water is unsafe for drinking, according to Storer.

"During and after rains, our water is muddy," Storer stated. "I have four small children, the oldest 5½ years and the youngest one year. I do not want them exposed to this apparent danger."

Storer estimated that approximately 50 families are served by the Inverness Park Water System.

"J. J. Downey of San Francisco owns the Inverness Park Water Company," Storer said. "He also owns the Point Reyes Station Water System."

The approximately 100 users of the Point Reyes Station water have the same trouble, according to Storer.

Storer plans to have witnesses from both areas at the hearing. "I just want the Public Utilities Commission to put sanctions on Downey for not running his water system properly," said Storer.

"Since that time, our water has improved remarkably. We can detect chlorine in it and it is clean. But I want the commission to know what happened prior to filing the suit," Storer said.

Public Works On Agenda At Novato

Novato city councilmen will hold a special study session at 8 o'clock tonight in the city hall on whether the city should take over all or part of the public works functions now provided by the county.

The city since its incorporation in January, 1960, has contracted with the county department of public works for such services as subdivision may review and final inspections. The county also has supplied engineering services, when requested by the city, and road maintenance.

The cost of the service, from July 1, 1961, to date has been about $18,200. With a city public works department, it is expected the cost would be higher, but service would improve, some city officials believe.

The contract with the county expires June 30. The city recently hired a public works director.

Dr. Martin Tarcher, head of the center, and his assistant, Miss Molly Day, conducted the meeting.

You Have Right To Set Up Rules For Neighbor Kids In Your Home

"I don't hesitate to scold or punish my own children," a mother writes. "But I hate to punish the neighbor kids.

"My best friend lives next door. She has three small children. They come into my house at odd hours. They never knock and they go everywhere. Sometimes they stay all day. When we're eating, they stand around the table staring. I have to push them out of the bathroom when I bathe.

"They aren't mean and they don't destroy anything, but they get into my hair. I can't offend their mother. What shall I do, try to ignore them?"

No, you should not try to ignore them. You must control what happens in your own home. You're lost if you don't.

I suggest that you work out a set of rules for the neighbor kids to follow. Discuss the rules with your husband. Get him to understand and approve. Tell your own children about the rules in advance. Then start teaching the rules to your small visitors. Teach them not to enter your door without knocking and getting permission. Teach them to go home at mealtimes, and to stay out of your bathroom. Teach them what hours they'll be welcomed, and what hours they won't be.

Your own children will benefit by the lessons. They'll learn how to behave in other people's homes.

Your little visitors will disobey at times. When they do, don't punish them. Just banish them—send them home. If the trouble continues, go to their mother. She knows her children aren't perfect. She would be willing to help guide them.

Try to be friendly and cordial. Let all the children see you like them. If they're normal, they'll respond. They'll try to please you.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Scientists Say Sexes Should Be Defined

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two psychologists see no scientific sense but much confusion in so many of their colleagues ignoring the differences between men and women. From the way many psychologists behave (scientifically), you might think those differences were not important.

Of all people, psychologists should know better, continued Earl R. and Rae Carlson of Michigan State University, East Lansing. They should know better because their science has accumulated much evidence that in many instances sex differences are influential and even controlling.

Men and women do "react differently to many social situations and differ in many personality characteristics," the Carlsons said in jacking up their fellows in a technical journal of the American Psychological Assn. Indeed, they said, "potential sex differences are omnipresent."

Yet in scientifically testing the attitudes and responses of human beings, some psychologists test males or females only but generalize their results to cover the opposite sex. Or if they do test men and women together, they report findings as though the experimental subjects were of neuter gender.

The Carlsons analyzed the 298 psychological studies reported to one technical journal in two years. Of these 113 used only males as representative of people, and 15 used only females. Sex differences were so far from the minds of authors of 62 studies the sex of their subjetcs wasn't mentioned.

This left 108 studies in which the scientific experimenters experimented with both women and men, and mostly in even proportions. But in only 33 did the experimenters apply psychological tests to find out if the men and women had responded to the experimental situations differently. And in 22 of the 33 they had.

"Obviously many characteristics of an individual may interact with psychological relationships under study," they said. "A researcher cannot hope to do more than control or test for the effects of the most significant of these factors."

They had two reasons for urging that sex should always be included among these most significant variable factors.

"First, sex differences do run rampant through our literature, and no one can deny that they are often important.

"Secondly, sex is an easy factor to measure, and sex differences are easily tested and reported. There seems little excuse not to include them as a standard procedure."

They noted that in most cases the male was the experimental creature, which was all right with them as long as the experimenter said so and did not try to draw broad conclusions covering more than males. Other scientists would then understand that "generalization to females must depend upon further research."

But what are scientists to understand when the reports of their colleagues don't mention the sex? The Carlsons suspected that many of them fail even to notice the omission. They wanted sex to be noticed and considered both by scientific experimenters and the scientific audience experimenters report to.

You Have Right To Set Up Rules For Neighbor Kids In Your Home

"I don't hesitate to scold or punish my own children," a mother writes. "But I hate to punish the neighbor kids.

"My best friend lives next door. She has three small children. They come into my house at odd hours. They never knock and they go everywhere. Sometimes they stay all day. When we're eating, they stand around the table staring. I have to push them out of the bathroom when I bathe.

"They aren't mean and they don't destroy anything, but they get into my hair. I can't offend their mother. What shall I do, try to ignore them?"

No, you should not try to ignore them. You must control what happens in your own home. You're lost if you don't.

I suggest that you work out a set of rules for the neighbor kids to follow. Discuss the rules with your husband. Get him to understand and approve. Tell your own children about the rules in advance. Then start teaching the rules to your small visitors. Teach them not to enter your door without knocking and getting permission. Teach them to go home at mealtimes, and to stay out of your bathroom. Teach them what hours they'll be welcomed, and what hours they won't be.

Your own children will benefit by the lessons. They'll learn how to behave in other people's homes.

Your little visitors will disobey at times. When they do, don't punish them. Just banish them—send them home. If the trouble continues, go to their mother. She knows her children aren't perfect. She would be willing to help guide them.

Try to be friendly and cordial. Let all the children see you like them. If they're normal, they'll respond. They'll try to please you.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Scientists Say Sexes Should Be Defined

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two psychologists see no scientific sense but much confusion in so many of their colleagues ignoring the differences between men and women. From the way many psychologists behave (scientifically), you might think those differences were not important.

Of all people, psychologists should know better, continued Earl R. and Rae Carlson of Michigan State University, East Lansing. They should know better because their science has accumulated much evidence that in many instances sex differences are influential and even controlling.

Men and women do "react differently to many social situations and differ in many personality characteristics," the Carlsons said in jacking up their fellows in a technical journal of the American Psychological Assn. Indeed, they said, "potential sex differences are omnipresent."

Yet in scientifically testing the attitudes and responses of human beings, some psychologists test males or females only but generalize their results to cover the opposite sex. Or if they do test men and women together, they report findings as though the experimental subjects were of neuter gender.

The Carlsons analyzed the 298 psychological studies reported to one technical journal in two years. Of these 113 used only males as representative of people, and 15 used only females. Sex differences were so far from the minds of authors of 62 studies the sex of their subjetcs wasn't mentioned.

This left 108 studies in which the scientific experimenters experimented with both women and men, and mostly in even proportions. But in only 33 did the experimenters apply psychological tests to find out if the men and women had responded to the experimental situations differently. And in 22 of the 33 they had.

"Obviously many characteristics of an individual may interact with psychological relationships under study," they said. "A researcher cannot hope to do more than control or test for the effects of the most significant of these factors."

They had two reasons for urging that sex should always be included among these most significant variable factors.

"First, sex differences do run rampant through our literature, and no one can deny that they are often important.

"Secondly, sex is an easy factor to measure, and sex differences are easily tested and reported. There seems little excuse not to include them as a standard procedure."

They noted that in most cases the male was the experimental creature, which was all right with them as long as the experimenter said so and did not try to draw broad conclusions covering more than males. Other scientists would then understand that "generalization to females must depend upon further research."

But what are scientists to understand when the reports of their colleagues don't mention the sex? The Carlsons suspected that many of them fail even to notice the omission. They wanted sex to be noticed and considered both by scientific experimenters and the scientific audience experimenters report to.

College Collects 2,000 Books For Asian Students

A total of 2,000 books have been collected by the College of Marin books-for-Asian-students drive, co-chairmen Michael Kelly and John Wasserman of Mill Valley announced today.

This is twice the figure the students had set for themselves before the start of the drive.

The books will be turned over to the Asian Foundation for distribution to elementary high school and college students in Asian countries.

The college's student council challenged junior colleges throughout the state to compete with the College of Marin during the month of April for the collection of books.

"As far as the competition goes," said Kelly, "we feel the same way now that we did before the drive started. We hope to win. But suppose we don't—who really stands to lose?"

Two Marinites Get Army Honor

Two Marin civilian employee of the Army at Fort Mason have been honored with "outstanding employee" ratings by their supervisors at the Pacific Transportation Terminal Command.

The ratings, normally accorded to less than three per cent of all Federal workers, were given to Mrs. Helen E. Kelly, 102 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, and Mrs. Betty C. Hartmann, 1115 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. Mrs. Kelly is a management clerk in the Command's Management Division, while Mrs. Hartmann is a law clerk in the Staff Judge Advocate's Office.

Recruit Graduates

Duane A. Oehlschlaeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amel White of Olema has been graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center at San Diego.

Golden Wedding Fete Turns Into Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of 24 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, had a surprise waiting for them last April 30.

Nine of their ten children turned up at the Collins home to give their parents a party in honor of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Collins, 68, a native of Newfoundland, and her husband, 70, were married April 30, 1911, in Sydney, Nova Scotia. Collins was born on Prince Edward Island.

Seven of the Collins children were born in Nova Scotia. In 1923 the family moved to St. Louis, Mo., where Collins entered the insurance business. Two years later his company opened an agency in San Francisco, and he transferred his family to Mill Valley. Three more children were born in Mill Valley.

Attending the 50th anniversary celebration were seven daughters, two sons and daughters-in-law and sons-in-law: Mrs. Ella Santos, Michael Collins, Mrs. Grace Phillips, all of Mill Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vanderveen (Ceal) of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of Monterey; Mrs. Marge Mikkelson of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bettis (Kathleen) and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Keyes (Lorraine- of Novato, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Soldavini (Carmel) of San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hinz (Gertrude) of Los Angeles were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins also have 24 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Guide Dogs To Graduate Mill Valleyan

Otto Zeller of Mill Valley will be among eight students who will graduate from Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., in San Rafael May 27.

Graduation exercises, open to the public, will be held at 2:30 p.m. at the school's 11-acre campus on Los Ranchitos Road.

Zeller, a native of Switzerland, is a part-time caretaker at the Swiss Club Tell in Mill Valley. He will graduate with German shepherd Blake.

A widower, with three grown children, Zeller came to the United States in 1913. Before he became blind, he was an upholsterer, harnessmaker and airplane mechanic.

Other graduating students and their dogs are Charles Wallace of San Francisco, with German shepherd, Barbara; Don Addis of Wichita, Kans., with German shepherd, Damon; Mrs. Jane Eagle of Venice, with golden retriever, Wheat; Mrs. Lola Edwards of Venice, with Labrador retriever, Rave; Ditloff Iverson of Pacific Beach, with German shepherd, Irene; Mrs. Katherine Kelsay of Rocky Ford, Colo., with golden retriever, Jaguar, and John R. Paige of Santa Cruz, with Labrador, Ona.

Each blind student will officially receive the dog he has been training with for four weeks from the 4-H youngster who raised it.

After the graduation a Guide Dog demonstration, tour of the campus and reception are planned.

Guide Dogs is a non-profit organization, giving dogs and training without charge to blind in 24 Western states and Canada.

College Collects 2,000 Books For Asian Students

A total of 2,000 books have been collected by the College of Marin books-for-Asian-students drive, co-chairmen Michael Kelly and John Wasserman of Mill Valley announced today.

This is twice the figure the students had set for themselves before the start of the drive.

The books will be turned over to the Asian Foundation for distribution to elementary high school and college students in Asian countries.

The college's student council challenged junior colleges throughout the state to compete with the College of Marin during the month of April for the collection of books.

"As far as the competition goes," said Kelly, "we feel the same way now that we did before the drive started. We hope to win. But suppose we don't—who really stands to lose?"

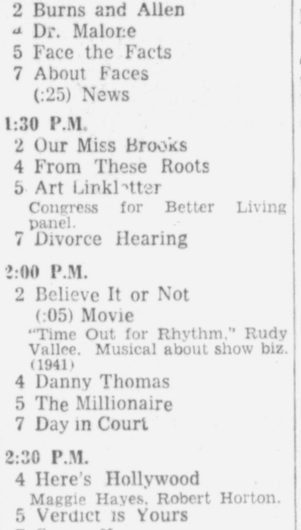
Two Marinites Get Army Honor

Two Marin civilian employee of the Army at Fort Mason have been honored with "outstanding employee" ratings by their supervisors at the Pacific Transportation Terminal Command.

The ratings, normally accorded to less than three per cent of all Federal workers, were given to Mrs. Helen E. Kelly, 102 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, and Mrs. Betty C. Hartmann, 1115 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. Mrs. Kelly is a management clerk in the Command's Management Division, while Mrs. Hartmann is a law clerk in the Staff Judge Advocate's Office.

Recruit Graduates

Duane A. Oehlschlaeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amel White of Olema has been graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center at San Diego.



Golden Wedding Fete Turns Into Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of 24 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, had a surprise waiting for them last April 30.

Nine of their ten children turned up at the Collins home to give their parents a party in honor of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Collins, 68, a native of Newfoundland, and her husband, 70, were married April 30, 1911, in Sydney, Nova Scotia. Collins was born on Prince Edward Island.

Seven of the Collins children were born in Nova Scotia. In 1923 the family moved to St. Louis, Mo., where Collins entered the insurance business. Two years later his company opened an agency in San Francisco, and he transferred his family to Mill Valley. Three more children were born in Mill Valley.

Attending the 50th anniversary celebration were seven daughters, two sons and daughters-in-law and sons-in-law: Mrs. Ella Santos, Michael Collins, Mrs. Grace Phillips, all of Mill Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vanderveen (Ceal) of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of Monterey; Mrs. Marge Mikkelson of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bettis (Kathleen) and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Keyes (Lorraine- of Novato, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Soldavini (Carmel) of San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hinz (Gertrude) of Los Angeles were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins also have 24 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Guide Dogs To Graduate Mill Valleyan

Otto Zeller of Mill Valley will be among eight students who will graduate from Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., in San Rafael May 27.

Graduation exercises, open to the public, will be held at 2:30 p.m. at the school's 11-acre campus on Los Ranchitos Road.

Zeller, a native of Switzerland, is a part-time caretaker at the Swiss Club Tell in Mill Valley. He will graduate with German shepherd Blake.

A widower, with three grown children, Zeller came to the United States in 1913. Before he became blind, he was an upholsterer, harnessmaker and airplane mechanic.

Other graduating students and their dogs are Charles Wallace of San Francisco, with German shepherd, Barbara; Don Addis of Wichita, Kans., with German shepherd, Damon; Mrs. Jane Eagle of Venice, with golden retriever, Wheat; Mrs. Lola Edwards of Venice, with Labrador retriever, Rave; Ditloff Iverson of Pacific Beach, with German shepherd, Irene; Mrs. Katherine Kelsay of Rocky Ford, Colo., with golden retriever, Jaguar, and John R. Paige of Santa Cruz, with Labrador, Ona.

Each blind student will officially receive the dog he has been training with for four weeks from the 4-H youngster who raised it.

After the graduation a Guide Dog demonstration, tour of the campus and reception are planned.

Guide Dogs is a non-profit organization, giving dogs and training without charge to blind in 24 Western states and Canada.

Shell's automotive experts have developed many ways to make their own cars run better and last longer. The numbers on this classic 1930 V-16 indicate some of the areas deserving attention, as described below.

Shell recommends 21 ways to make your car last longer

Shell scientists dedicate their working lives to the care and feeding of automobiles.

They can offer dozens of tips on prolonging the life of your second biggest investment. Here are some useful samples:

AMERICANS spend more than 2 billion dollars a year on automotive replacement parts. This expense is enough to give every man, woman, and child in the U. S. a $12 birthday present.

With a little care you can avoid much of this expense and keep your car youthful. Here are a few tips from Shell's experts.

1. Break in a new car properly. A long break-in period at low speed is no longer necessary. But manufacturers recommend:

A. Don't accelerate at full throttle or change gears abruptly. Sudden shocks to gears in the rear axle and transmission can cause lasting damage.

B. Vary your speeds—and especially avoid sustained high speed.

C. Try not to stop too suddenly—it can harm brake surfaces.

2. Warm up slowly. Racing an engine to warm it up ages it fast. A short warm-up at moderate speed is good for your car even in summer, and even more necessary during colder months when the oil tends to move sluggishly at first. Never race your cold engine to warm up, though. It may damage critical working parts before lubrication can be fully established.

There's no need for long idling; but drive slowly for the first few minutes.

3. Use your engine to save your brake linings. Anticipate your slowdowns. Use the brake as little as possible.

When you see you'll have to slow down, take your foot off the accelerator early and let the engine's compression do some of the job.

Always keep the master brake cylinder full of heavy-duty brake fluid. Shell's Super Heavy Duty brake fluid is designed to help your car's brakes deliver top performance.

4. Have your engine's spark timing set to proper specifications. The spark timing determines whether your plugs fire at exactly the right instant. With incorrect timing you lose power and cut mileage. Also your car may knock. Chronic knocking can eventually damage your engine.

5. Use a gasoline that controls knock. If your engine persists in knocking, you may need a gasoline with more anti-knock components, for a higher octane rating.

Today's Super Shell contains all of the anti-knock ingredients required to help your car deliver knock-free performance.

6. Learn to read tail pipe smoke signals. Blue smoke means too much oil is getting into the combustion chambers.

Excessive blue smoke is a warning that piston rings may be worn—and need replacing. Your mechanic calls this a "ring job."

Black smoke is an indication of too much gasoline in the air-fuel mixture. Your carburetor may need an adjustment.

White smoke is mostly water vapor. Don't worry about it. Your engine makes a gallon of water for every gallon of gasoline burned. On cold days some of this shows up as vapor.

7. Have your oil checked whenever you fill up with gasoline. An oil check is a simple safety check for your engine. It is also free, and takes less than a minute.

By the way, oil does not wear out. But it can be lost through leaks or burning. And it does get dirty. Worse yet, oil can become contaminated by combustion by-products—including acid.

To be really safe, use new Shell X-100® Premium Motor Oil. It only costs about $3.60 more per year than regular oils—no more than most premiums.

New Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil fights engine acid a brand-new way—with an amazing chemical shield that clings tightly to all metal surfaces.

For most cars Shell recommends an oil change once a month in winter, every 60 days in summer—never more than 2,000 miles between changes.

8. Avoid high speeds and save your tires. Every extra mile your tires last is money in your pocket. High speeds increase wear drastically—by as much as 80% over normal wear—so it pays to go easy.

9. Rotate tires every 5,000 miles. Your tires will last longer because they will all wear evenly, and at the same rate. Note: See your Shell dealer for a set of valve caps; they will prevent air from getting out and dirt from getting in around the tire valve.

10. Check wheel alignment and balance. The shock of hitting curbs or dropping into deep holes can cause misalignment.

This literally drags the wheel at an angle to the line of travel. Nothing wears tires out more quickly.

Have an expert check wheel alignment and balance at least twice a year. Proper tire inflation at all times is also essential.

11. Save your battery with 11¢ worth of baking soda. Dirt and corrosion can actually cause current leaks—and can shorten your battery's life by many months. If corrosion is visible, wash the battery off with a solution of baking soda and water. Use a wire brush if necessary. Then rinse thoroughly with warm water. Ask your Shell dealer to check your battery terminals.

Caution: Never allow the soda-water solution to get into your battery; it could neutralize the acid which makes your battery work.

12. Change your oil filter element every other oil change. Abrasive specks as small as 1/1000th of an inch in diameter can shorten the life of your engine. The oil filter element in your car has the exacting task of keeping tiny, dangerous specks of metal and other abrasives out of the engine, while allowing oil to flow freely.

The filter catches and holds these foreign particles until it can hold no more. But when the oil filter is clogged up, it cannot work effectively.

Replacing the filter element every other oil change helps your engine to last longer.

13. Get a lubrication job regularly. Dirt and moisture can work into chassis joints and bushings, causing friction and wear. Grease can also eventually pound out, leaving the parts unprotected.

See your Shell dealer for a Shellubrication. He has the charts, equipment, Shell lubricants for your car, and the skill for a really thorough job.

14. Have your car's cooling system checked twice a year. In time, the inhibitors in your anti-freeze lose some of their ability to prevent rust, corrosion and sediment from forming in your cooling system.

Let your Shell dealer check the cooling system—including hoses and hose connections—no less than twice a year. When he drains and refills he will add a special Cooling System Protector.

15. Keep door and body panel drain holes clear to foil rust. You never see them, but there are little drain holes at the bottom of body panels and doors. They can get clogged so that the panels actually hold water. Rust forms more easily and can eat holes right through the metal.

You have probably noticed this ugly sight in other cars. Make sure drain holes are always kept clear.

16. Keep road salt washed off. Nothing can damage a car's appearance more than the chemicals used to clear icy, snowy roads. They can eat not only the finish, but the body structure itself. Make sure you get it all off—not only from the paint but from the bright metal parts, as well.

17. Use these tips to help your car stay new looking longer. A good coat of polish provides a film that protects your car's finish. But before you polish your car, always wash it—and always in the shade.

Some new car finishes need only a good washing to keep them bright, but others require waxing. It's a good idea to check your owner's manual. Older cars are almost certain to benefit from a good waxing.

18. Protect chrome against rust invasion. Chrome, itself, can't rust. But it actually has millions of tiny holes which can let the moisture right through to the metal beneath. Dirt invites this invasion, so clean the chrome thoroughly and frequently, and wax it for further protection.

19. "Bandage" minor scratches in your car's finish. Small scratches in the finish expose bare metal which can rust. Until you can have the scratches refinished, keep rust from forming with a coat of touch-up paint or even a strip of cellulose tape on the scratches. Use clear nail polish on scratches in the chrome.

20. Pamper carpets and upholstery. Ground-in dirt wears out carpets before their time. Give them a weekly whisking or vacuuming; shampoo once in a while.

21. Let your Shell dealer help your car last longer. Your car may have cost you thousands of dollars. After your home, this is probably your biggest single investment.

Treat it carefully. Feed it well. Let your Shell dealer help you on both counts. You will save money—and increase your driving pleasure, too.

Always keep the master brake cylinder full of heavy-duty brake fluid. Shell's Super Heavy Duty brake fluid is designed to help your car's brakes deliver top performance.

4. Have your engine's spark timing set to proper specifications. The spark timing determines whether your plugs fire at exactly the right instant. With incorrect timing you lose power and cut mileage. Also your car may knock. Chronic knocking can eventually damage your engine.

5. Use a gasoline that controls knock. If your engine persists in knocking, you may need a gasoline with more anti-knock components, for a higher octane rating.

Today's Super Shell contains all of the anti-knock ingredients required to help your car deliver knock-free performance.

6. Learn to read tail pipe smoke signals. Blue smoke means too much oil is getting into the combustion chambers.

Excessive blue smoke is a warning that piston rings may be worn—and need replacing. Your mechanic calls this a "ring job."

Black smoke is an indication of too much gasoline in the air-fuel mixture. Your carburetor may need an adjustment.

White smoke is mostly water vapor. Don't worry about it. Your engine makes a gallon of water for every gallon of gasoline burned. On cold days some of this shows up as vapor.

7. Have your oil checked whenever you fill up with gasoline. An oil check is a simple safety check for your engine. It is also free, and takes less than a minute.

By the way, oil does not wear out. But it can be lost through leaks or burning. And it does get dirty. Worse yet, oil can become contaminated by combustion by-products—including acid.

To be really safe, use new Shell X-100® Premium Motor Oil. It only costs about $3.60 more per year than regular oils—no more than most premiums.

New Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil fights engine acid a brand-new way—with an amazing chemical shield that clings tightly to all metal surfaces.

For most cars Shell recommends an oil change once a month in winter, every 60 days in summer—never more than 2,000 miles between changes.

8. Avoid high speeds and save your tires. Every extra mile your tires last is money in your pocket. High speeds increase wear drastically—by as much as 80% over normal wear—so it pays to go easy.

9. Rotate tires every 5,000 miles. Your tires will last longer because they will all wear evenly, and at the same rate. Note: See your Shell dealer for a set of valve caps; they will prevent air from getting out and dirt from getting in around the tire valve.

10. Check wheel alignment and balance. The shock of hitting curbs or dropping into deep holes can cause misalignment.

This literally drags the wheel at an angle to the line of travel. Nothing wears tires out more quickly.

An out-of-line wheel can increase tire wear as much as 50 per cent. An unbalanced wheel pounds the tire against the pavement, wearing the tread unevenly.

Have an expert check wheel alignment and balance at least twice a year. Proper tire inflation at all times is also essential.

11. Save your battery with 11¢ worth of baking soda. Dirt and corrosion can actually cause current leaks—and can shorten your battery's life by many months. If corrosion is visible, wash the battery off with a solution of baking soda and water. Use a wire brush if necessary. Then rinse thoroughly with warm water. Ask your Shell dealer to check your battery terminals.

Caution: Never allow the soda-water solution to get into your battery; it could neutralize the acid which makes your battery work.

12. Change your oil filter element every other oil change. Abrasive specks as small as 1/1000th of an inch in diameter can shorten the life of your engine. The oil filter element in your car has the exacting task of keeping tiny, dangerous specks of metal and other abrasives out of the engine, while allowing oil to flow freely.

The filter catches and holds these foreign particles until it can hold no more. But when the oil filter is clogged up, it cannot work effectively.

Replacing the filter element every other oil change helps your engine to last longer.

13. Get a lubrication job regularly. Dirt and moisture can work into chassis joints and bushings, causing friction and wear. Grease can also eventually pound out, leaving the parts unprotected.

See your Shell dealer for a Shellubrication. He has the charts, equipment, Shell lubricants for your car, and the skill for a really thorough job.

14. Have your car's cooling system checked twice a year. In time, the inhibitors in your anti-freeze lose some of their ability to prevent rust, corrosion and sediment from forming in your cooling system.

Let your Shell dealer check the cooling system—including hoses and hose connections—no less than twice a year. When he drains and refills he will add a special Cooling System Protector.

15. Keep door and body panel drain holes clear to foil rust. You never see them, but there are little drain holes at the bottom of body panels and doors. They can get clogged so that the panels actually hold water. Rust forms more easily and can eat holes right through the metal.

You have probably noticed this ugly sight in other cars. Make sure drain holes are always kept clear.

16. Keep road salt washed off. Nothing can damage a car's appearance more than the chemicals used to clear icy, snowy roads. They can eat not only the finish, but the body structure itself. Make sure you get it all off—not only from the paint but from the bright metal parts, as well.

17. Use these tips to help your car stay new looking longer. A good coat of polish provides a film that protects your car's finish. But before you polish your car, always wash it—and always in the shade.

Some new car finishes need only a good washing to keep them bright, but others require waxing. It's a good idea to check your owner's manual. Older cars are almost certain to benefit from a good waxing.

18. Protect chrome against rust invasion. Chrome, itself, can't rust. But it actually has millions of tiny holes which can let the moisture right through to the metal beneath. Dirt invites this invasion, so clean the chrome thoroughly and frequently, and wax it for further protection.

19. "Bandage" minor scratches in your car's finish. Small scratches in the finish expose bare metal which can rust. Until you can have the scratches refinished, keep rust from forming with a coat of touch-up paint or even a strip of cellulose tape on the scratches. Use clear nail polish on scratches in the chrome.

20. Pamper carpets and upholstery. Ground-in dirt wears out carpets before their time. Give them a weekly whisking or vacuuming; shampoo once in a while.

21. Let your Shell dealer help your car last longer. Your car may have cost you thousands of dollars. After your home, this is probably your biggest single investment.

Treat it carefully. Feed it well. Let your Shell dealer help you on both counts. You will save money—and increase your driving pleasure, too.
